ELKS STATE CONVENTION HERE TO BE A CLASSIC

21ST ANNUAL GATHERING HERE IN EARLY AUGUST

'THE JOLLY ELK" GIVES CONVENTION WIDEST PUBLICITY

PARADE A COLORFUL SPECTACLE WITH 20 BANDS AND DRUM CORPS

With a two line heading right across the page, "The Jolly Elk" published by Lannie C. Horne, in Minneapolis, gives widest publicity to the coming Elks state convention in Brainerd.

The page article, embellished with pictures, says in part:

August 20, 21 and 22. These are the dates of the twenty-first annual gathering of Minnesota State Elks' Association and the greatest convention in the history of the state body is forecast as a result of the splendid preliminary work being done by Brainerd Elks.

Brainerd, Minn., which entertains the next convention, has left nothing undone which might add to the comfort of the visiting throngs and entertainment of a kind never surpassed at anything save a national gathering has already been arranged by the local committee.

The opening day of the convention Thursday, August 20, will be given over to the election of officers and transaction of business matters by the State Association, followed by automobile tours, complimentary banquet to Exalted Rulers, Secretaries and State Officers, the ritualistic contest at Elks Hall and entertainment for the ladies.

On Friday, August 21, there will be a baseball game, etc. There will be a registered trapshooting tournament and Brother Elwood Fitchette of Minneapolis Lodge and a trapshooter of national fame, will preside on this occasion. There will be golf matches at the Brainerd Country club and acquatic sports at Lum Park, and for those who wish, auto tours to points of interest.

In the afternoon there will be band contests with cash prizes of $300, $200 and $100 for the successful contestants and drum corps contests for a beautiful silver trophy. The parade will be a colorful spectacle with more than twenty bands and drum corps in the line of march.

The closing day, Saturday, August 22, has been designated as "Breezy Point Day" in honor of Captain Billy Fawcett, Brainerd Elk and leader of the championship Olympic trapshooting team, which defeated all opponents in Europe. Tournaments of every description are slated for this day and Secretary John J. Cummins of Brainerd Lodge is asking that entrants get in touch with him at once.

There will be a golf tourney over a perfect nine hole course, a horseshoe tournament, a bowling tournament for the individual championship of the state, tennis, trapshooting, bowling and swimming and all lodges are requested to select representations for the various events.

Breezy Point Lodge is one of the show spots of the nation and invitations have been extended Grand Exalted Ruler Federal Judge W. H. Atwell of Dallas, Texas, Grand Secretary Fred C. Robinson of Chicago, Judge John C. Karel of Milwaukee, Past Grand Exalted Ruler John G. Price of Columbus, Ohio, and other Elks prominent in the councils of the order to be guests of Brother Fawcett.

Brainerd ladies of the Elks have made plans for the entertainment of all lady visitors to the convention.

Add to all this the many natural advantages that the city of Brainerd and the surrounding country has to offer and it may readily be seen that the Crow Wing county metropolis will be the Mecca of all Elkdom for the dates of August 20, 21 and 22. Our parting word to readers of the Jolly Elk is to make your reservations now. Get in touch with the housing committee of Brainerd lodge and tell them to set aside rooms for your party. This will be the greatest state gathering ever held in Minnesota and you will want to be among those present.

OLE OLSON, FAMOUS LIQUOR SLEUTH, FINDS LEAKY 'RADIO PARTS'

(By United Press)

Duluth, July 29.—Ole Olson, famous as a liquor sleuth in the northwest, knows little about radio, but he is sure that radio parts don't leak. With Charles Benson, another federal agent, he seized 500 quarts of alleged Scotch whiskey in the Omaha line depot. The liquor was labeled "radio parts" and shipped from Minneapolis.

$6,000 OBTAINED ON FORGED CHECKS

ST. PAUL BANKS AND STORES VICTIMIZED IN NATION-WIDE RING

St. Paul, July 29.—St. Paul merchants and banks have been mulcted of $6,000 by a nationwide ring which is cashing forged Pullman Co. checks.

This estimate was made today by Burns Detective agency men who are trying to locate members of the gang which is cashing the checks.

The checks have been reported from almost every state in the country and the total losses amount to $100,000, according to Burns detectives.

The forgers have printed facsimiles of the Pullman Co. check blanks and when they are filled out, colored men in Pullman porter uniforms are sent out to cash them. Most of the checks have been for $90.

When the ring first began operations, the checks were usually deposited in checking accounts in banks and about half of the money checked out before the fraud was discovered

More recently the method was changed and the checks have been cashed at large stores. Most of the checks cashed in St. Paul have been handled in this way.

In Minneapolis the loss has been much less than in St. Paul. Only $600 worth of the checks have been reported in Minneapolis.

MONTHLY BUSINESS SURVEY ENCOURAGING

(By United Press)

Chicago, July 29.—Bumper crops renewed industry in meat packing, increased activity in the production and sales of farm equipment, contrasted with a decline in automobile and furniture sales furnished the high lights of the monthly business survey of the seventh federal reserve district made public today.

The survey forecast a bumper corn crop throughout the central west and announces that harvesting of small grains is proceeding rapidly. The yield in hay is low, but is offset by a heavy carry over from a year ago. Early crops, particularly of canning peas, made a poor showing, but the prospects for the later crop looked bright, the report states. Iowa crops appear to be particularly above average.

JAPAN TO HONOR DEAD AMBASSADOR

REMAINS OF BANCROFT TO BE SENT TO U. S. IN WARSHIP

(By United Press)

Tokio, July 29—Japan is planning rare honors for America's dead Ambassador Edgar A. Bancroft.

It was learned today that the government is disposed to send his remains to the United States aboard a warship accompanied by a mission probably headed by Rear Admiral Tamura.

Bancroft was the third American envoy to die suddenly in Japan and his passing after a period of convalescence came as a great shock to a large party of United States congressmen here on a trip.

GREAT NORTHERN HAS ENCOURAGING FINANCIAL REPORT

HALF MILLION DOLLARS MORE AVAILABLE FOR DIVIDENDS IN 1924

OPERATING ECONOMY, EFFICIENCY AND CO-OPERATION MAKES IT POSSIBLE

(By United Press)

St. Paul, July 29. — The Great Northern railway has half a million dollars more available for dividends for 1924 than in the previous two years.

In its 36th annual report for the year ending December 31st, the Great Northern shows a net operating income of $6,844,566 and a balance available for dividends of $3,051,355.

"Railway operating revenues in 1924 were approximately $10,000,000 less than in 1923," says the report. "This increase was more than offset by a decrease in the operating expenses. The average cost of handling 100 tons of freight one mile was 57.6 cents in 1924 as compared with 63.3 cents in 1923. This was accomplished by economies resulting from the use of improved facilities, such as enlarged terminals and passing tracks, additional second track, automatic block signal, grade reductions, more powerful and better locomotives and modern shop and roundhouse machinery and tools; all of which, of course, involve the expenditure of large capital sums. Another important element in operating economy was the individual efficiency and co-operation of employes with the management.

"Great Northern taxes increased from $4,790,000 in 1914 to $10,257,000 in 1924, an increase of 114 per cent.

"It should be simple for all to agree that reduction of railway taxes affords one very effective and positive means of lowering the cost of transportation."

THREATS OF LABOR TROUBLE FACING NATION

ANTHRACITE COAL AND TEXTILES ARE THE TROUBLE CENTERS

WAGE REDUCTIONS IN LATTER IS A SERIOUS AFFAIR

(By United Press)

Swampscott, Mass., July 29.—Threats of widespread labor difficulties and possible strikes in two essential industries faced President Coolidge today.

With the anthracite coal situation becoming increasingly serious, the American Federation of Labor has come out in open hostility toward the New England textile manufacturers who are reducing wages in many plants.

The textile reductions are serious because of the great gerenal influence of this industry on the country as a whole and because bad times in New England would be certain to endanger the standing of the republican party and would damage Senator Butler's chances of being re-elected in Massachusetts next year. Butler, close friend and senate spokesman of the president, has large holding in one of the mills which reduced wages recently.

Swampscott, Mass., July 29.—Secretary of the Navy Wilbur's plan to concentrate all the navy's dirigibles at San Diego, has not been submitted to Pres. Coolidge for his information or approval.

The president believes, however, that if the navy department has decided upon the plan, there is good reason for the radical change in the nation's air way system, it was said at the summer White House.

Mr. Coolidge has been advised of secret development of both army and navy air services which convinces him that a tremendous improvement has ben meade in the air fighting resources of the nation in recent months.

The president let it become known that he was in hearty approval with the plan of Maj. Gen. Patrick as head of the army air service.

EXPECTED TO SMOOTHE RUFFLED FEATHERS OF DEPARTMENT HEADS

SQUABBLE OVER AUTHORITY IS AS YET UNSETTLED

(By United Press)

St. Paul, July 29. — The gentle hand of Governor Theodore Christianson today has failed to smooth the ruffled feathers of department heads.

The equabble over authority is as yet unsettled.

Conferences most of the day yesterday accomplished but one thing—a promise by those engaged in the departmental controversy to "talk things over."

Governor Christianson talked with members of the "big three" department of administration and finance. He urged that differences be settled "across the table" rather than in the press and in legal process. The governor is trying to get the two defiant department heads to confer.

Ray Chase, state auditor and member of the department of conservation still retains F. R. Paine of Duluth as park commissioner and Paine is working without salary because the "big three" refuses to allow his appointment.

NO CLOTHES LESS REPUGNANT THAN PRESENT STYLES

(By United Press)

London, July 29.—If women were to go about without any clothes at all, it would be "far less repugnant to people of good taste," than are the present suggestive styles, in the opinion of 79-year-old Cardinal Gasquet, librarian at the Vatican, who is here on a visit.

"There is more suggestiveness about the flimsy clothing they now wear than there would be in complete nudity," said the aged churchman.

Meantime, Rev. Richard Free, an English vicar, preached a sermon in which he declared "day by day in every way the fair sex is growing nakeder and nakeder" and questioned whether the police would have to be called in as they were on account of the costumes Parisian ladies wore after the French revolution.

St. Paul, July 29.—Duplicity and intrigue split the army of adventurers recruited by three Chicago youths and wanderlust lead them to jail here today.

The boys who headed for the west less than a week ago, painted rare pictures of fortunes and their latest idea was to join a revolution in Mexico.

All went well until Joe Debeno trusted his $14 to "Brave Bill" Skally, leader of the expedition. While Joe, 17-year-old lieutenant, was in a barber shop, his companions disappeared. Debeno wandered about in search of his companions until bed time. Tired and hungry he went to the city jail and asked for a bunk. Then he told his story.

Police found "Brave Bill" Skally and Tony Bersea along with three other recruits in a vacant house which neighbors said they were trying to dismantle. Enlisted with the Chicago trio was a boy from Grand Rapids, Michigan, and two others from St. Paul.

SIMPLICITY AND AN UTTER LACK OF CEREMONY

DAYTON MOURNS PASSING OF THE GREAT COMMONER

HIS WIDOW BEARS UP WITH CALM FORTITUDE

(By United Press)

On board the Bryan funeral train enroute to Washington, July 29.—Leaving behind a sorrowing little Tennessee town whose citizens almost to the last man, woman and child gathered to witness the departure, a train with two special cars attached today bore toward Washington the remains of W. J. Bryan.

The simplicity and lack of ceremony which at the request of Mrs. Bryan marked the reverent placing of the bronze casket in its car served only to emphasize the depth of feeling with which Dayton saw the last of its champion.

Around the little railroad station before the train pulled out about nine o'clock were gathered the simple folk of the Tennessee hills whose cause the commoner espoused. They came to say a last farewell leaving the town quiet and deserted behind them.

Friends of Bryan who had followed him in his last fight for fundamentalism, acted as an escort while townsfolk of Dayton gathered at the station. Mrs. Bryan refused to see the features of her husband in death, dreading a collapse. She was led into the little parlor where the body lay last night at her own request, but kept her eyes on the floor.

"I won't look at him until the very last," she said. "I feel that if I looked at him now I would break down and I must prevent doing that. I don't want to look at him until they close the casket for the last time."

Bearing up with calm fortitude, the widow was taken back to her wheel chair in another room. An invalid for the last five years, Mrs. Bryan is unable to use her legs or arms because of a form of paralysis.

NO CLOTHES LESS REPUGNANT THAN PRESENT STYLES

(By United Press)

London, July 29.—If women were to go about without any clothes at all, it would be "far less repugnant to people of good taste," than are the present suggestive styles, in the opinion of 79-year-old Cardinal Gasquet, librarian at the Vatican, who is here on a visit.

"There is more suggestiveness about the flimsy clothing they now wear than there would be in complete nudity," said the aged churchman.

Meantime, Rev. Richard Free, an English vicar, preached a sermon in which he declared "day by day in every way the fair sex is growing nakeder and nakeder" and questioned whether the police would have to be called in as they were on account of the costumes Parisian ladies wore after the French revolution.

DUPLICITY AND INTRIGUE RULE

ADVENTUROUS CHICAGO YOUTHS FIND WANDERLUST LEAD TO JAIL

(By United Press)

St. Paul, July 29.—Duplicity and intrigue split the army of adventurers recruited by three Chicago youths and wanderlust lead them to jail here today.

The boys who headed for the west less than a week ago, painted rare pictures of fortunes and their latest idea was to join a revolution in Mexico.

All went well until Joe Debeno trusted his $14 to "Brave Bill" Skally, leader of the expedition. While Joe, 17-year-old lieutenant, was in a barber shop, his companions disappeared. Debeno wandered about in search of his companions until bed time. Tired and hungry he went to the city jail and asked for a bunk. Then he told his story.

Police found "Brave Bill" Skally and Tony Bersea along with three other recruits in a vacant house which neighbors said they were trying to dismantle. Enlisted with the Chicago trio was a boy from Grand Rapids, Michigan, and two others from St. Paul.

SIMPLICITY AND AN UTTER LACK OF CEREMONY

DAYTON MOURNS PASSING OF THE GREAT COMMONER

HIS WIDOW BEARS UP WITH CALM FORTITUDE

(By United Press)

On board the Bryan funeral train enroute to Washington, July 29.—Leaving behind a sorrowing little Tennessee town whose citizens almost to the last man, woman and child gathered to witness the departure, a train with two special cars attached today bore toward Washington the remains of W. J. Bryan.

The simplicity and lack of ceremony which at the request of Mrs. Bryan marked the reverent placing of the bronze casket in its car served only to emphasize the depth of feeling with which Dayton saw the last of its champion.

Around the little railroad station before the train pulled out about nine o'clock were gathered the simple folk of the Tennessee hills whose cause the commoner espoused. They came to say a last farewell leaving the town quiet and deserted behind them.

Friends of Bryan who had followed him in his last fight for fundamentalism, acted as an escort while townsfolk of Dayton gathered at the station. Mrs. Bryan refused to see the features of her husband in death, dreading a collapse. She was led into the little parlor where the body lay last night at her own request, but kept her eyes on the floor.

"I won't look at him until the very last," she said. "I feel that if I looked at him now I would break down and I must prevent doing that. I don't want to look at him until they close the casket for the last time."

Bearing up with calm fortitude, the widow was taken back to her wheel chair in another room. An invalid for the last five years, Mrs. Bryan is unable to use her legs or arms because of a form of paralysis.

Look for Treasure Hidden by Alexander

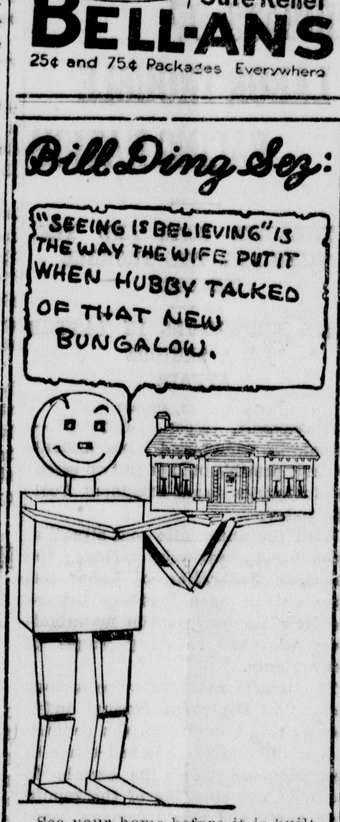

When Alexander the Great was marching against the Persians in 331 B. C. a part of his army mutinied on the shores of the Caspian sea. There is a legend that he hid all his gold, royal possessions and spoils of war somewhere in the vicinity to keep them from falling into the hands of the mutineers. The Archeological society of the Republic of Azerbaijan has begun a search for this treasure. It is believed to be buried about sixty-five miles from the city of Baku. There are no historical data on the subject as to the location of the treasure, but an old man eighty years old living at Andrievka says he owns an ancient map which was stolen from a Turkish sultan many years ago. This map, he says, indicates that the treasure was buried near his village. Whether or not the archeologists locate the treasure, it is believed that they will at least excavate many valuable relics throwing light on the peoples and nations which inhabited the country before the time of Christ.—Pathfinder Magazine.

25TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gallagher Surprise Them on Occasion

50 GUESTS ARE PRESENT

Presented Happy Couple With a Beautiful Set of Silverware

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gallagher perpetrated a surprise on them Saturday evening, about 50 people invading the Gallagher home, 501 G street, Northeast, the occasion being the 25th wedding anniversary of the couple.

The evening was spent informally and at 11 o'clock delicious refreshments were served, the guests bringing all of the necessities for an excellent repast.

S. H. Wooden, acting as spokesman for those the guests, presented Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher with a beautiful set of silverware. In his remarks Mr. Wooden told of the high esteem in which the Gallaghers' are held and offered the congratulations of the assemblage on the occasion of the couple's silver anniversary, expressing the hope that they would double this length of time, so that their many friends might assist them in observing their golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher have resided in Brainerd for the past 15 years, coming to this city from Pine River. Mr. Gallagher is employed by the Northern Pacific Railway as trainman. There are eight children in the family.

Origin of "Infantry"

The word "infantry" owes its origin to an infanta, or princess royal of Spain. Once when a king of Spain was conducting a war against the Moors his cavalry got badly beaten. Thereupon the princess immediately raised a regiment of foot soldiers to go to their aid. Foot soldiers were ever after known in Spain as the infanta's men, and from this we get our term "infantry."

Lifelike at That

A famous French painter prohibited smoking in his atelier. One morning entering, he saw a student with a lighted cigarette between his fingers. Going up to him the painter said: "That's a curious kind of pencil you've got there, my young friend. May I ask what you propose to draw with it?"

"Clouds," was the ready answer.—Boston Transcript.

Slightly Exaggerated

Among the letters recently received at the office of a benevolent society was one running thus: "This unfortunate young man is the only son of a widow who died childless, and his earnings maintain his aged father and infant brothers, whose sole support he is."

LIFE SAVING DEMONSTRATIONS

Alfred S. Moreau, of the Red Cross, to be at Lum Park

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY

Demonstrations Begin Promptly at 7 P. M. Enhanced by Band Concert

Alfred S. Moreau arrived this afternoon and will conduct instructions in life saving together with practical demonstrations, at Lum park this Wednesday evening and again on Thursday evening. The public is invited and urged to attend both evenings.

The demonstrations will begin promptly at 7 o'clock each night, and will be enhanced by band concerts which begin an hour later. The Brainerd Municipal band will give its weekly concert at Lum park tonight, in conjunction with Mr. Moreau's demonstrations, and the Brainerd Boys band will furnish a concert on Thursday evening.

Following the demonstrations tonight there will be a public dance in the Lum park pavilion, to which everyone is invited. The Breezy Point dance orchestra, talented musicians from the twin cities, who have made an excellent reputation for themselves this season at Capt. Fawcett's resort, will furnish the music for this dance. Local people who have danced to this orchestra's music at Breezy Point are delighted with the music furnished, and are looking forward to this evening's dance with a great deal of anticipation. It is expected that a large crowd will take advantage of this opportunity to dance to the music furnished by the orchestra. Quite a number from Breezy Point are planning to come to Brainerd for the occasion.

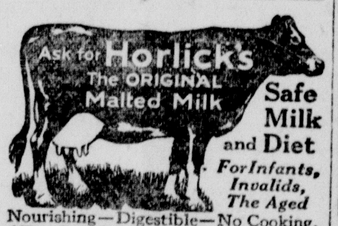

This afternoon Mr. Moreau is giving swimmers' tests to Boy Scouts and junior boys at Lum park, and on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock similar tests will be given Girl Scouts and junior girls at the park.

Director E. A. Page of the Boys Band states that his organization has prepared a number of new selections for tomorrow evening's concert. Much interest has developed locally in this youthful and talented band, and Brainerd citizens grasp every opportunity to hear its concerts.

IS YOUR WORK HARD?

Many Brainerd Folks Have Found How to Make Work Easier

What is so hard as a day's work with an aching back?

Or sharp stabs of pain at every sudden twist or turn?

There is no peace from that dull ache.

No rest from the soreness, lameness and weakness.

Many folks have found relief through Doan's Pills. They are a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys.

Brainerd people recommend Doan's.

S. J. Greer, horseshoer, 822 S. 7th St., Brainerd, says: "The constant bending and straining my back, irritated my kidneys. When I got down to put a shoe on a horse it was about all I could do to get up again. I sure was in pain and it became hard for me to do my work properly. My kidneys didn't act right, but when I used Doan's Pills I was fixed up in good shape."

THE GRIT OF A RACING CAR

Its brilliant, utterly different performance was bound, at first, to overshadow the unsurpassed dependability and durability of the Hupmobile Eight.

Now, the public is learning that this Eight is as extraordinary in these respects as in the new interpretation it puts on fine motoring.

Owners habitually drive thousands of miles without even minor adjustments—which means that this is a trustworthy car for a woman.

The fact is, the Hupmobile Eight is built like a racing car—that is, built to travel all day long at top speed. Naturally, such a car, in ordinary day-after-day service, is certain to prove a revelation in stand-up-ability.

PEQUOT APPRECIATES PUBLICITY

PEQUOT recently gained wide publicity and the Pequot Review voices an appreciation of the work fellow newspaper men did for their town.

Last week the newspapers in the territory in which the Crow Wing County Fair is a matter of interest gave the coming fair publicity that would have cost the association in the neighborhood of $75 had it been paid for at regular advertising rates. The combined circulation in which the story appeared of the Pequot community's effort in repairing the fair buildings after the wind storm had done great damage was not less than 8,000. This means that at least 20,000 people in the territory from which the fair might draw exhibits and attendance have been told of the coming exhibition and have had their interest aroused to some extent at least.

Community enterprises owe much to their newspapers—much more than is often realized. Community success depends in much greater degree upon community enterprise than upon the enterprise of any individual. Communities that back their newspapers and help them make the most of community opportunities are the forward stepping ones. Business men who do not believe that it pays to spend money for advertising, and those who do not feel they can spend the time and effort required for learning and putting into practice the principles of successful advertising, can still well afford to buy newspaper space regularly for the indirect benefit they receive through their newspapers. Making a better newspaper invariably makes a better town.

A community that helps itself invariably attracts the attention of the world. Pequot roused itself after its little windstorm just as Santa Barbara did after the earth tipped things up. The spirit of self reliance is always appreciated and in the end gets more cooperation, cheer and indirect aid than sitting in the dumps and shedding tears and like Micawber of Dickens waiting for something to turn up.

ADVANTAGE OF SMALL NEWSPAPERS

THE Manufacturer and Industrial News Bureau, E. Hofer & Sons, publishers, Salem, Oregon, sends out a news bulletin and clipsheet of editorials which is a most excellent service. A recent observation regarding the advantage of the small newspaper carries many pertinent truths.

From an ethical standpoint it can fairly be claimed that the country press and small city dailies have a marked advantage over the big metropolitan newspapers. The smaller papers are conducted by their owners who are personally known to the people and business men of the community and read in nearly every family.

The owners, editors and publishers are freer to express their honest convictions than the highly commercialized city press, too often run by hired employes, principally to earn dividends. The small daily or country weekly that lives up to its opportunities represents the stand of personal journalism in behalf of the community. As long as the small city dailies and country weeklies remain true to their best traditions, with their editorials devoted to constructive policies, their influence in journalism will increase.

"WHERE THE PINES BEGIN"

JOHN F. WOODHEAD, president of the Brainerd Rotary club, and Ford super salesman, always an original individual, has evoked a new slogan for our town of Brainerd which is a good one and a distinctive one. True, in the pioneer days when Brainerd was a big town on the timber line and five sawmills were busy cutting, we were a "City of Pines." But the virgin timber line has retreated and few big pines rear their heads in the city limits.

But the slogan, "Where the Pines Begin," is perfectly proper and a suggestive one. We make no claim for timber like we once had or like that which still hits the sky in Oregon and Washington, but we can truthfully assert that Brainerd is the town where the summer vacationist gets his first view of the pines. And many a tourist goes home with a bit of our pines decorating his automobile and every hunter and fisherman, later in the season, decorates his trophies of sea or land with some of the pine boughs.

BRYAN'S CONCEPTION OF DEATH

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN'S conception of death, as expressed in his last written speech, is a thought beautifully expressed and one that will be quoted frequently:

"Christ has made of death a narrow, starlit strip between the companionship of yesterday and the reunion of tomorrow."

The sincerest tribute accorded Bryan was by a western man out in the Brainerd Lake region, a brother newspaper man, who remarked: "Well, Bryan is one newspaper man who was headed in the right direction when he died."

The last speech he wrote will be his best monument, and to live in the hearts and inner consciousness of the people is a better abiding place than under carved marble or in golden sarcophagus.

TRAPSHOOTING

TARGET and trap manufacturers report that 1925 so far this year has been the biggest in history. They are crowded with orders and running to full capacity turning out the clay birds and traps to throw them. This shows that trapshooting is becoming more popular every day in all sections of the country.

The Elks national convention at Portland, Oregon, this year had a special trapshooting tournament and the Brainerd state convention of the Elks has two big trapshooting events, one staged by the Brainerd Gun club on Friday, August 21, at their grounds in Brainerd and the other a tournament with two representatives from each Elks lodge, staged at Breezy Point Lodge, Saturday, August 22, by Captain William H. Fawcett.

A RECENT issue of the Little Falls Daily Transcript contained these wise observations, referring to automobiling or applicable to general conditions: "All the world is looking for a place to park," and "Most people in this age seem to care little where they are going, just so they go."

We quote further from the Jolly Elk: Owatonna Lodge which is one of the healthiest units of the order, notwithstanding the fact that it is the baby lodge of Minnesota, is making great plans for the State Elks Convention at Brainerd and expects to send the drum and bugle corps as well as the band in addition to a goodly number of the brothers in August. Brother W. E. Merchant, who enjoys the distinction of being the drum major of the Elks organization, says that funds are being raised and that the visit to Brainerd is being looked forward to by every member of the drum corps and band. George D. Holden is the director of the latter unit and has succeeded in welding together one of the finest brass organizations in the northwest.

"We are coming to Brainerd," says Exalted Ruler O. M. Thurber, "and we will enter every contest." It might be well for other lodges to absorb some of the spirit which the infant organization of Minnesota radiates. This lodge boasts 500 members in good standing and is one of the lodges in the country to show a healthy increase last year.

Stillwater Coming

The Stillwater column in the Jolly Elk reports that Brainerd lodge has a wonderful program for the entertainment of the State Association. It will pay to include Brainerd in your vacation territory. There is plenty of good fishing, swimming, etc., up there, and you can find out where to look for deer, bear, etc., when you begin to outline your trip to the north woods in December, or whatever month is appropriate for hunting deer.

St. Cloud Coming

According to Secretary F. X. Beaver, St. Cloud will send a large delegation. They appreciate the cordial way in which Brainerd turned out for their convention, when St. Cloud entertained the Elks.

Duluth and the Messabe range gave the Brainerd Elks official program much support and the lodges from this territory will be largely represented at Brainerd.

Northern Pacific Assists Too

The Northern Pacific is assisting too and will make up special trains in St. Paul or Minneapolis should the demand require it. Very reasonable rates have been made for tourist sleepers and standard Pullmans. With 30 people to the car the per capita charge for three days is $4.25 for tourist car and $7.57 for standard, and covers sleeping car accommodations enroute and occupancy while at Brainerd. These figures include the 3 days per diem, surcharge and parking charge, the latter covering icing, watering, switching and sanitation.

Solution to Yesterdays Puzzle

Many Sought Widow

The mayor of Grimsby, England, dished a notice in the local paper that he had received a letter from a boy asking him to help her find a good husband. In a few days he received more than 200 letters applying for the "position."

"SOME WILD NOTIONS I HAVE KNOWN"

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

"THIS IS LIFE"

A flying car, a crowd of half-drunken youths, a roadhouse, a midnight hour and a metallic laugh piercing the night—"THIS IS LIFE."

Was ever a foolish girl more mistaken?

Life is a climb—a pulling of one's self out of the mire of ignorance, incompetency, jealousy, fear and bestiality. Man, alone of all living creatures, has the upward look. His face is toward the sun and stars.

Life is a struggle—a fight against appetite, passion, crudeness and ugliness; a striving toward sonship with God.

Life is evolution—the evolving of genius from the commonplace, of prima donnas from school girls and presidents from railsplitters.

Life is a thrill—not the thrill of passion run riot but the thrill of masterful manhood; not the thrill of eternal triangles but of square living. The happiest people are those who have given their desperate best in the name of a great ideal. There is no greater thrill than to have done one's best.

"Life is a beautiful adventure," said Charles Frohman, sinking with the Titanic, with his face set toward eternity.

"Life is vitalized ether," said the great scientist looking through his microscope, at an atom. How much of life he was missing.

Life is not something to be exploited, but something to be made. Not something from which we may wring the last possible thrill, but something into which we can put the best possible endeavor.

Jesus of Nazareth, the greatest success that humanity has ever known, said, "I am the way, the truth and the life."

This is life—to live like a son of God.

Solution to Yesterdays Puzzle

"SOME WILD NOTIONS I HAVE KNOWN"

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

"THIS IS LIFE"

A flying car, a crowd of half-drunken youths, a roadhouse, a midnight hour and a metallic laugh piercing the night—"THIS IS LIFE."

Was ever a foolish girl more mistaken?

Life is a climb—a pulling of one's self out of the mire of ignorance, incompetency, jealousy, fear and bestiality. Man, alone of all living creatures, has the upward look. His face is toward the sun and stars.

Life is a struggle—a fight against appetite, passion, crudeness and ugliness; a striving toward sonship with God.

Life is evolution—the evolving of genius from the commonplace, of prima donnas from school girls and presidents from railsplitters.

Life is a thrill—not the thrill of passion run riot but the thrill of masterful manhood; not the thrill of eternal triangles but of square living. The happiest people are those who have given their desperate best in the name of a great ideal. There is no greater thrill than to have done one's best.

"Life is a beautiful adventure," said Charles Frohman, sinking with the Titanic, with his face set toward eternity.

"Life is vitalized ether," said the great scientist looking through his microscope, at an atom. How much of life he was missing.

Life is not something to be exploited, but something to be made. Not something from which we may wring the last possible thrill, but something into which we can put the best possible endeavor.

Jesus of Nazareth, the greatest success that humanity has ever known, said, "I am the way, the truth and the life."

This is life—to live like a son of God.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND IS TORN BY A MOVE LIBERALIZE ITS FAITH

ARTICLES OF FAITH SUBJECT OF CONTENTION

MANY DIFFICULTIES ENTERING INTO SITUATION

By KEITH JONES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, July 29. — Proposed "liberalization" of the thirty-nine Articles of Faith of the Church of England has precipitated an intense discussion for and against the move which threatens effects striking to the very heart of the church.

Advocates of the change declare that the alarming decrease in the number of young men seeking to become clergymen and the apparent waning interest of the young generally in formal religion illustrate the need for liberalization.

But opponents, especially the Anglo-Catholic wing of the church which is already considering separation from the Protestant-Episcopal section, are objecting vigorously to any alteration in the time tried creed.

Start of Controversy

Starting as a result of an official inquiry instituted by the Archbishops of Canterbury and York into the reasons for the decline in number of candidates for admission to the ministry this question of the revision of the Articles of Faith so as to conform to Twentieth Century enlightenment has suddenly sprung into a prominent place in public discussion.

While acceptance of the "Thirty Nine Articles" is required for ordination of the clergy only, and not required by the laity as a condition of admission to the church of the question of their revision is nevertheless exciting intense interest. It is a step, it is felt, toward the further liberalization of the interpretation of the Bible permitted the laity at large.

The following points in the archbishops' report are attracting the most extensive comment:

Archbishops' Report

"We believe that it would bring relief" (that is to the dearth of candidates for the ministry)—"if it were decided that the Thirty Nine Articles are no longer a satisfactory statement for the purpose of assent, however valuable they may be as a document which sets forth in the language of its day the principles followed by the Church of England. In our opinion a restatement of these principles is required.

"We are agreed in rejecting the suggestion which has sometimes been made that the Church of England attempt to re-write the Creeds. We are, however, of the opinion that great relief would be afforded if the declaration made by the Bishops in 1922 could be followed up by a statement from the Episcopate as a whole to the effect that, recognizing the intellectual difficulties which arise out of some of the clauses in the Creeds, they would not look upon perplexity or uncertainty on such points as in all cases a barrier to Ordination, and that they would give consideration to all such difficulties brought before them individually."

"We believe" continues the report "that among the more serious men of the younger generation there are not a few who, though religion means much to them, and they are earnestly trying to think out their own beliefs, yet find themselves out of sympathy with the Church and with what is sometimes termed 'institutional religion' in general."

Liberal Views

A general inquiry among the "Protestant" clergy following the issuance of the archbishops' report showed a distinct trend of comment in favor of the proposed changes.

Said the Bishop of Willesdon, "I think it would be well if it were decided that the Thirty Nine Articles are no longer a satisfactory statement for the purpose of assent. Some of the Articles are all right but others do not interest people today as they did in the sixteenth century when they were formulated and, I think, should be done away with or revised."

"The intellectual difficulties that many potential candidates have to face are undoubtedly very real" declared Canon R. A. Mitchell, vicar of St. Michael's, in commenting on the problem. "I do not thing however that these difficulties would be removed by any remodeling of the Articles. Far better abolish subscription to the creeds entirely, and be content with the simple assent to the Apostles' Creed."

Opposition

On the other hand there is a strong contingent in the ranks of the Anglo-Catholics—who correspond to the Episcopal "high church" in America—who maintain that the salvation of the life of the Church rests not with its deinstitutionalization, but rather by an insistence on rites and forms.

They say that the Church can be saved only by an appeal to faith and not to intellect, and they point to the rather extraordinary strength their movement has developed in the last five years as confirmation of their viewpoint.

It is because of its bearing on the already tense situation that exists between the Protestant, Episcopalians and the Anglo-Catholic Episcopalians that this report of the archbishops is arousing such wide interest. It is possible, it is said, that it may precipitate the break between the factions and rend the Church of England.

CAPABLE RIVAL FOR HELEN WILLS NOT ON HORIZON

POPULAR GIRL SLATED TO WIN HER THIRD NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

LASS FROM FAR WEST STACKS UP AS CERTAIN AS TILDEN

By ART CARLSON

New York, July 29.—Helen Wills to win the 1925 national singles tennis title in the fair sex fiesta.

For after dissecting the field there appears no entry apt to pry the California girl loose from her coveted crown.

Frankly, "Little Poker Face," as she is affectionately called, should romp through to her third straight success. And, if anything, she ought to accomplish the feat with less trouble than in either of her last two starts.

Certain as Tilden

The lass from the far west sector stacks up just about as certain a winner as does the lanky Tilden in the men's event. That's close to the maximum of surety. Not much of a gamble in either case.

Miss Wills seems to be at the peak of her game. At least the splendid performances she has uncorked since coming to this section of the country leads one to believe that as great as she was in 1923 and 1924 she is even greater this season.

Scanning the net horizon as far as the naked optic will permit, we find no outstanding players, no possible "dark horse," coming up from the rank and file capable of giving the champion a battle.

And the recognized stars such as Molla Mallory, Eleanor Goss, Marion Jessup and so on have been brushed aside by the winsome lass from the golden west in the two most recent campaigns, making them less formidable now.

May Cause Trouble

Betty Ryan, talented English girl, may cause a bit of trouble. She's considered Europe's premier player next to the incomparable Suzanne. But if Helen Wills is in top form even the highly-touted invader shouldn't bring on any undue anxiety.

The champion has youth in her favor. She's improving each year. Should continue to improve yet a while. If she were good enough to win last year and the year before, her chances this season should be rosier than ever.

Many critics are predicting another hectic clash in the final round between Miss Wills and Mrs. Mallory. The meetings of these two arch-rivals have become almost as common as the celebrated Tilden-Johnson duels. Others opine it will be Betty Ryan who will make the titleholder hustle.

Can Equal Records

By winning this season Helen Wills can tie the three-time marks of Hazel Hotchkiss (the present Mrs. George W. Wightman) and Mary Browne, champions just before Mrs. Mallory, then Molla Bjurstedt, swept down from the north to sensational success.

The California maiden has a long road to traverse to equal or even approach Mrs. Mallory's record, however. For Molla won the crown seven times, four in successive seasons.

From 1915 to 1922, inclusive, with the exception of 1918, she sat atop the gilded throne, the empress of tennis. Her achievements have no parallel in the women's national net pastime.—St. Paul Daily News.

When Brides Were Bought

Wedding gifts apparently have developed from the earlier custom of exchange of gifts between bride and bridegroom, in turn based upon marriage by consideration, where the suitor had to give to the father of his intended wife a bride price or present and the daughter was provided with a dowry as a return gift.

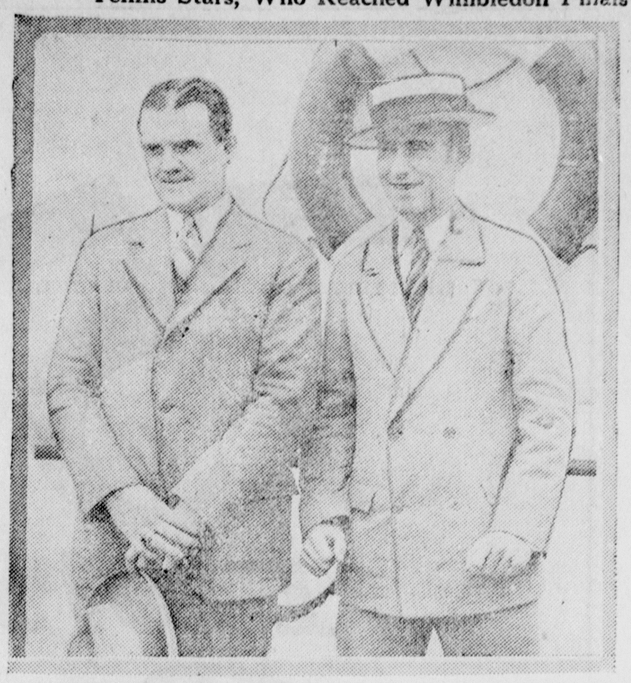

The price for a bride shows considerable variation, according to the wealth of the interested parties and the accomplishments of the bride. Among certain tribes a couple of pigs or goats seemed to be sufficient capital necessary for investment in one good husky helpmate. Among the Bedouins of Mount Sinai Westermarch tells us the price of a girl is "from $5 to $20," but sometimes amounts to $30 "if the girl is well connected and very handsome."

41—Care of the Clubs.

Even before the golfer has acquired any great amount of skill, he will develop a positive affection for one or more clubs. They have the feeling of fitting, analagous to the feeling of wearing a well-fitting suit of clothes. The actual choice of clubs never is ended until the player has that same feeling for every club in his bag. In the course of years many a player has bought a hundred clubs and more before he is satisfied.

And that feeling of satisfaction can be destroyed over night when a set of clubs has been used during a rain, put away without attention and one or more of the shafts is found to have warped a trifle. Steel shafts are not subject to this calamity—for that is what it is to find a treasured shaft getting out of shape. There is no use in trying to doctor up a hickory shaft that has begun to warp. The warp will simply grow with age and the feeling of doubt that assails the player when the warp first is noticed will deepen to the point of discarding the club when the bend becomes so pronounced that it interferes with the accuracy of the shot.

Clubs always should be dried carefully and oiled when they have been wet. It is as important to dry and oil the head as the shaft. Otherwise the water gets in under the surface and the head cracks at a most inopportune time. When it is certain the shafts and heads are perfectly dry it is best to give them frequent coats of shellac. This is as easy as oiling, but in either case be sure the club is thoroughly dry before treating it.

Many star golfers, possibly patterning after Walter J. Travis, never have the heads of iron clubs polished. The reflection of the sun on a polished putter has caused many a missed putt, and the same may be said of other iron clubs. Also, many experts object to the steady lightening of a perfectly balanced club by the wear of polishing, especially when the modern emery and buffing wheels are used carelessly. Don't put away the clubs for the off season by putting them into the bag and leaning it in a corner. Hang up each club with a screw-eye in the end of the shaft, or lay them flat on a table with the heads hanging over the edge.

The car that put the War in Warren

Jim Warren bought a car—the "Gingerbread Six."

Never heard of it before, but he happened to be walking along Automobile Row and during a lapse moment his foot slipped—he stepped inside.

"Nifty boat," said the salesman.

"Not bad," said Jim, as paint and doo-dabs got in their hypnotic work.

"But why isn't it advertised?" asked Jim.

"Don't need to advertise a job like that," was the forearmed reply. Sounded logical. But—

Six months later Jim had a collection of bolts and grease-cups and broken springs and disjointed steering mechanism and a motor that almost ran.

"Never again!" said Jim. "The car that's little known and never advertised hasn't much responsibility; little to live up to. Before I buy another car—or another anything—I'm going to get the facts. I'm going to read the advertisements about automobiles—or whatever I'm buying."

ALLEGED OPIUM USERS IN COURT

Charged With Unlawfully Receiving And Transporting Narcotics

EACH WAIVES EXAMINATION

Bonds Set at $5,000, Not Furnished, And Men Are Kept in Jail

William Morgan, Frank O'Leary and Nathan Gurin, the trio taken by local police at the New Brainerd hotel, where they had engaged a room and were alleged to have been in the act of smoking opium, were arraigned on Wednesday morning before Federal Court Commissioner A. D. Polk.

The three were charged with unlawfully receiving, transporting and concealing certain narcotics, namely opium, knowing the same to be imported contrary to law. Each of the three waived examination, and all were committed to the federal court at Duluth, bonds being set at $5,000, which were not furnished. The men are being held in the Crow Wing county jail.

When taken into custody Monday night, a large quantity of opium, an opium pipe, and other accessories, were found in their room at the hotel, the door of which had been sealed with wet paper. In addition to the narcotic, a large amount of merchandise was also taken in the raid, together with about $800 dollars in cash, mostly bills of large demoninations. The men came into the city in a Rickenbacher sedan, which because its number had been eradicated, leads authorities to believe the car was stolen.

Local police used a clever ruse to catch the three men unexpectedly. Calling the room from the hotel office, the trio was told that their car, which was parked at the curb in front of the hotel, had been hit by another car and badly damaged. One of the three hurried down stairs immediately and was placed under arrest. The officers then went up to the room and took the other two into custody, without giving them an opportunity to dispose of their supply of narcotics.

It is believed that a number of other serious charges will be forthcoming against the men, one of whom is said to have served two prison sentences for robbery.

Short Story Contest For Club Women Closes Aug. 15

Mrs. F. A. Defiel, chairman of the Literature division of the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs, is calling the attention of the club women to the fact that the short story contest will close on August 15. Two prizes are offered in this contest, a purse of $10 for the best story written by a member of a Federated Women's club and a scholarship in the Minneapolis School of Music, Oratory and Dramatic Art for the winning story written by a member of Junior Federated club.

The story must not exceed 1500 words in length and may be written on any subject that the author chooses. It must be typewritten and the pages must be written only on one side. The story must be in the hands of Mrs. F. A. Defiel, 1624 Ashland Avenue, St. Paul, by August 15.

Mrs. Asche of Carleton won the $10 prize last year. The winner was announced and the prize story read at one of the sessions of the annual meeting in Excelsior.

Mrs. Defiel particularly desires to receive a large number of stories from the members of the Junior clubs as the prize offered seems well worth while.

TALL CEDARS AT LINDEN HOUSE

Enjoyed a Very Pleasant Outing at J. N. Francis Resort on Round Lake

ANNUAL PICNIC HELD

At Least 150 in Attendance, Many Providing Own Basket Dinners

Brainerd and Range brothers with their families enjoyed a very pleasant outing on Sunday at Linden House, the J. N. Francis resort on Round lake, near Mille Lacs, at the annual picnic of the Tall Cedars of Lebanon.

It is estimated that at least 150 were in attendance, many providing their own basket dinners, and others preferring to partake of the excellent meals furnished by Mrs. Francis.

Round lake was not visited by the hard rains that desended upon other sections of the county, only two light showers interrupting for a short time the festivities of the day.

The events of the day included an indoor ball game between Brainerd and range players, a water ball game in which the ladies participated, and a program of land and water sports.

Much credit was given the special committee in charge for the excellent outing that was planned, and a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Francis who did everything in their power to make the day enjoyable. The grounds at Linden House were turned over entirely to the pleasure of the Tall Cedars, and the Francis' spared no pains to grant every wish of the merrymakers.

The next big event on the Tall Cedar calendar will be a dancing party at the Crosby Armory on Friday evening, August 7th. Hedstrom's orchestra has been secured to furnish the music for the occasion, which alone insures the success of the dance. Members of the order will recall the very pleasant evening spent in a similar dancing party at the Crosby armory several months ago, and are looking forward to the coming dance with as much anticipation.

ORTHOPEDIC CLINIC AUG. 8

Similar to the One so Successfully Held Last Year

AT THE COURT HOUSE

Purpose is to Examine Crippled Children of the County

An orthopedic clinic, similar to the one so successfully held last year, will be staged at the Farmers room in the court house on Saturday, August 8th, from 9 o'clock in the morning until 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

This clinic is being held for the purpose of examining the crippled children of the county. Any child with any manner of deformity is urged to attend and be examined, receiving the expert advice of the physician in charge.

Dr. C. C. Chatterton, chief of the medical staff of the state hospital for crippled children, at Phalen park, St. Paul, or one of his assistants will conduct the clinic. Dr. Chatterton conducted the local clinic last year, and made many friends in this county as well as doing excellent work among crippled children locally.

The clinic is entirely free, a fact that is especially emphasized. There are absolutely no charges connected with the examination. Those who intend to be present, or who wish further information are asked to get in touch with Miss Thora Ingebritson, county nurse, either by letter, or by telephone at her office in the court house, on any morning between 9 and 10 o'clock, before Thursday, August 6th.

Any living in Brainerd should receive information concerning the clinic through Miss Eula Michael, city nurse, before the above date. It is hoped that all those who have deformities will take advantage of this excellent opportunity and make arrangements to attend the clinic.

RURAL DRAMA, "RUDIE MY BOY"

Crow Wing County Farm Clubs to Witness Spirited Performance

100 PER CENT MINNESOTA

Written by Native of State, Enacted by Minnesota Boys

Crow Wing County Farm Bureau clubs are to be treated to a spirited rural drama, entitled "Rudie My Boy," presented at various get-together meetings throughout the county during the week beginning August 10th. County Agent E. G. Roth has prepared a series of feature programs containing numbers of special interest to farmers, which will be presented together with the drama.

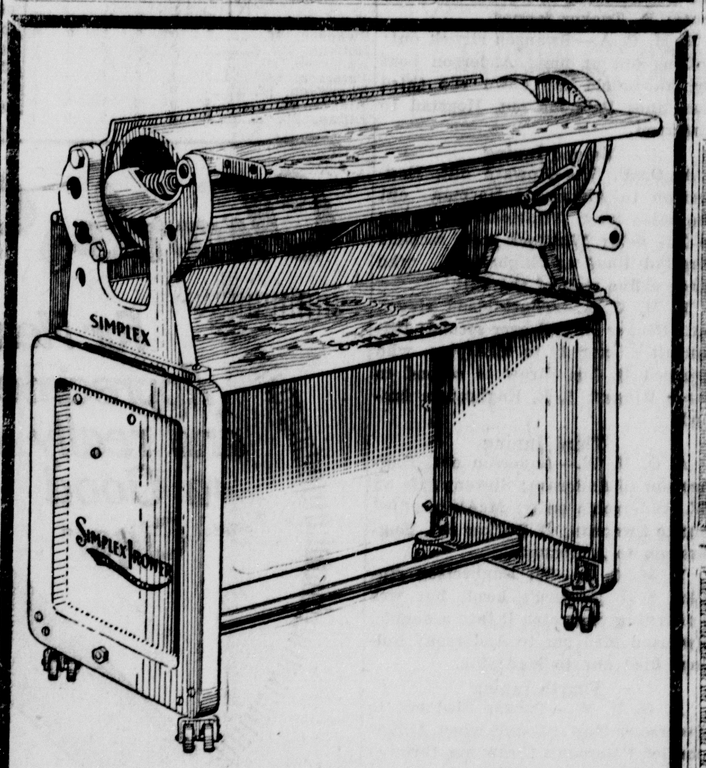

"Rudie My Boy" is a 100 per cent Minnesota production, written by a native of this state and enacted by Minnesota boys. Victor Christgau, of Austin, is its author, and Elmer Starch, of Kenyon and Alfred Sjowall, of Minneapolis are the actors. Both are instructors in summer projects at the school of agriculture of the University of Minnesota.

The scene of the play is laid in the office of a creamery secretary, and the presentation is in the form of a dramatic debate. Both characters employ rapid fire, brass tacks methods as they hurl facts at each other in an argument which at times becomes very tense and very heated.

"Rudie My Boy" is being featured throughout the state this summer by the American Farm Bureau Federation, and has met with a hearty response where ever it has been presented. It appeals to those of the city as well as to the farmer, and the close attention of both young and old is held as the plot of the drama is gradually revealed.

The play won its reputation when KYW, a Chicago radio broadcasting station, featured it in a program recently, and as a result, Farm Bureaus in other states are asking that it be presented there.

Mr. Roth expects to have the play presented in about ten localities in Crow Wing county during the week of August 10th, and to do this a number of afternoon meetings will be held. The complete schedule will be published later.

ALLEGED OPIUM USERS IN COURT

Charged With Unlawfully Receiving And Transporting Narcotics

EACH WAIVES EXAMINATION

Bonds Set at $5,000, Not Furnished, And Men Are Kept in Jail

William Morgan, Frank O'Leary and Nathan Gurin, the trio taken by local police at the New Brainerd hotel, where they had engaged a room and were alleged to have been in the act of smoking opium, were arraigned on Wednesday morning before Federal Court Commissioner A. D. Polk.

The three were charged with unlawfully receiving, transporting and concealing certain narcotics, namely opium, knowing the same to be imported contrary to law. Each of the three waived examination, and all were committed to the federal court at Duluth, bonds being set at $5,000, which were not furnished. The men are being held in the Crow Wing county jail.

When taken into custody Monday night, a large quantity of opium, an opium pipe, and other accessories, were found in their room at the hotel, the door of which had been sealed with wet paper. In addition to the narcotic, a large amount of merchandise was also taken in the raid, together with about $800 dollars in cash, mostly bills of large demoninations. The men came into the city in a Rickenbacher sedan, which because its number had been eradicated, leads authorities to believe the car was stolen.

Local police used a clever ruse to catch the three men unexpectedly. Calling the room from the hotel office, the trio was told that their car, which was parked at the curb in front of the hotel, had been hit by another car and badly damaged. One of the three hurried down stairs immediately and was placed under arrest. The officers then went up to the room and took the other two into custody, without giving them an opportunity to dispose of their supply of narcotics.

It is believed that a number of other serious charges will be forthcoming against the men, one of whom is said to have served two prison sentences for robbery.

Short Story Contest For Club Women Closes Aug. 15

Mrs. F. A. Defiel, chairman of the Literature division of the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs, is calling the attention of the club women to the fact that the short story contest will close on August 15. Two prizes are offered in this contest, a purse of $10 for the best story written by a member of a Federated Women's club and a scholarship in the Minneapolis School of Music, Oratory and Dramatic Art for the winning story written by a member of Junior Federated club.

The story must not exceed 1500 words in length and may be written on any subject that the author chooses. It must be typewritten and the pages must be written only on one side. The story must be in the hands of Mrs. F. A. Defiel, 1624 Ashland Avenue, St. Paul, by August 15.

Mrs. Asche of Carleton won the $10 prize last year. The winner was announced and the prize story read at one of the sessions of the annual meeting in Excelsior.

Mrs. Defiel particularly desires to receive a large number of stories from the members of the Junior clubs as the prize offered seems well worth while.

TALL CEDARS AT LINDEN HOUSE

Enjoyed a Very Pleasant Outing at J. N. Francis Resort on Round Lake

ANNUAL PICNIC HELD

At Least 150 in Attendance, Many Providing Own Basket Dinners

Brainerd and Range brothers with their families enjoyed a very pleasant outing on Sunday at Linden House, the J. N. Francis resort on Round lake, near Mille Lacs, at the annual picnic of the Tall Cedars of Lebanon.

It is estimated that at least 150 were in attendance, many providing their own basket dinners, and others preferring to partake of the excellent meals furnished by Mrs. Francis.

Round lake was not visited by the hard rains that desended upon other sections of the county, only two light showers interrupting for a short time the festivities of the day.

The events of the day included an indoor ball game between Brainerd and range players, a water ball game in which the ladies participated, and a program of land and water sports.

Much credit was given the special committee in charge for the excellent outing that was planned, and a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Francis who did everything in their power to make the day enjoyable. BEST GAME OF SEASON PLAYED LAST NIGHT

BRITISHERS WIN WITHOUT TRAINING

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, July 29.—Form shown by the British collegians in the recent meets of the Oxford-Cambridge team against the Yale-Harvard and Princeton-Cornell teams took another sock at the merit of the strict training systems employed in American colleges.

The British team lost to Yale and Harvard on a fluke and overwhelmed Princeton and Cornell a week later.

One Princeton man, after the meet, excused the defeat of the Americans with the plea—"Our fellows were not in condition."

"They have been away from college for a month, you know, and they have not trained as well as they do in college," he said.

The English collegians were also away from school for a month, they made the trip across the ocean, had only a few days to get ready and they seemed to be in good shape.

The answer is, perhaps, that the English boys, trained when they left the campus as they did when they were under the eyes of their tutors.

They smoked when they had the desire, they ate what they liked and they drank what they wanted—when they could get it.

The English boys had a great time on the boardwalk at Atlantic City and they started a new vogue for the beach cake-eaters with their blazing, blazer coats and the scarves wrapped around their necks.

The popular Lord "Davey" Burghley was the biggest hit since the Prince of Wales with New York society summering at the resort and he had to use some of his teammates for pinch-hitters at afternoon teas.

* * * * * * * * *

"We came over to compete, of course," is Lordship said, "but we Englishmen believe that social features are a part of high class athletics and that fun should be combined with athletics to get moral as well as physical results from the games."

"We are too fond of your American boys to act like critics," he added, "but we get some amusement from the seriousness with which your boys take athletics. We ask ourselves as we have asked them—'What fun do you get out of your athletics?' We should never compete if we had some lordly coach to tell us—'You may have a bowl of consomme, a lamb chop and a glass of milk for lunch.'

"We eat what we want when we want it. You know, we Englishmen eat a lot and we drink some. We have to do it to withstand the hardships of our climate. Perhaps if we trained on a diet like the American athletes do, we should become seriously ill. I believe the difference in climate may have a lot to do with it. If we became accustomed to the American climate I am quite sure that we would retain our form with the same mode of living. But regardless of reasons, I believe we have more fun out of athletics and get more out of it than your boys do."

$10,000 MEMORIAL TO PERCY HAUGHTON AT HARVARD FIELD

Harvard's memorial to the late Percy Duncan Haughton will be a cenotaph in front of the Locker building, on Soldiers' field, the famous athletic field of the Crimson athletes.

It is a fitting selection, for it will be near the path where for years the famous football coach trod daily on his way from the Locker building to the Harvard stadium gridiron to turn out the most finished football teams in Harvard's history.

It will cost $10,000. The bas relief on the front of the imposing monument shows the famous "P. D." kneeling in a familiar pose, gazing on a pair of struggling football players, one carrying the ball and the other bringing the carrier to earth with a scientific tackle.

Three singles in a row off Stevens in the last inning of last night's contest gave the Y. M. C. A. the only run made during the game, and scored a victory over the Workmen, 1-0. Stevens, after pitching a fine game, blew up, and Peterson, Thorkildson and Ringer socked his offerings for solid blows, and Peterson tramped across the platter with the winning tally.

Engbretson held the Workmen to two hits and no runs, Whitlock and C. Tucker being the only men to hit safely. Several times he was pulled out of holes by nice plays, both by himself and his teammates. In the second inning Engbretson made a nice one-handed grab of Hegstad's liner to retire the side. In the fifth, Bollens took McAlpine's liner and doubled Stevens at first.

The game was the best yet seen, and the fans appreciated the game to the extent of a liberal collection. The games seen in the league now are as good as the ordinary out-of-town contest. Fans are invited to come and see them. Tonight the Y. M. C. A. and B. A. C. play off a postponed game from last week.

The game in detail is as follows:

First Inning

A. O. U. W.—McAlpine out, Peterson to Anderson; C. Tucker out same route; R. Tucker fanned.

Y. M. C. A.—Swanson struck out; Bollens out at first; Anderson beat out an infield tap down the third base line; Peterson out, Hegstad to Anderson.

Second Inning

A. O. U. W.—Howard out, Engbretson to Anderson; Norman out the same way; Whitlock hit safely to left field; Whitlock stole second; Hegstad lined to Engbretson, who made a fine stab of the ball.

Y. M. C. A.—Thorkildson struck out; Ringer singled over second; Dillan hit a long fly to McAlpine, who dropped it, but threw to second to catch Ringer; S. E. Engbretson fanned.

Third Inning

A. O. U. W.—Anderson out, Engbretson to Anderson; Stevens safe on W. Anderson's error; McAlpine flied out to Swanson; C. Tucker out, Engbretson to Anderson.

Y. M. C. A.—W. Engbretson singled over Howard's head, but was out trying to stretch it into a double. Swanson flied out to Anderson; Bollens flied out to McAlpine.

Fourth Inning

A. O. U. W.—Tucker flied out to Peterson; Howard safe when Anderson let Peterson's throw get through him; Norman out, Bollens to Anderson; Peterson threw out Whitlock at first, on a close play. Whitlock had the throw beat a mile, but slid for the bag, and his slide carried him only to within a foot of the base; if he had kept on running, he would have been safe, and Howard would have been home with a run.

Y. M. C. A.—Anderson out, Stevens to A. Anderson; Peterson and Thorkildson fanned.

Fifth Inning

BRITISHERS WIN WITHOUT TRAINING

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, July 29.—Form shown by the British collegians in the recent meets of the Oxford-Cambridge team against the Yale-Harvard and Princeton-Cornell teams took another sock at the merit of the strict training systems employed in American colleges.

The British team lost to Yale and Harvard on a fluke and overwhelmed Princeton and Cornell a week later.

One Princeton man, after the meet, excused the defeat of the Americans with the plea—"Our fellows were not in condition."

"They have been away from college for a month, you know, and they have not trained as well as they do in college," he said.

The English collegians were also away from school for a month, they made the trip across the ocean, had only a few days to get ready and they seemed to be in good shape.

The answer is, perhaps, that the English boys, trained when they left the campus as they did when they were under the eyes of their tutors.

They smoked when they had the desire, they ate what they liked and they drank what they wanted—when they could get it.

The English boys had a great time on the boardwalk at Atlantic City and they started a new vogue for the beach cake-eaters with their blazing, blazer coats and the scarves wrapped around their necks.

The popular Lord "Davey" Burghley was the biggest hit since the Prince of Wales with New York society summering at the resort and he had to use some of his teammates for pinch-hitters at afternoon teas.

* * * * * * * * *

"We came over to compete, of course," 'is Lordship said, "but we Englishmen believe that social features are a part of high class athletics and that fun should be combined with athletics to get moral as well as physical results from the games."

"We are too fond of your American boys to act like critics," he added, "but we get some amusement from the seriousness with which your boys take athletics. We ask ourselves as we have asked them—'What fun do you get out of your athletics?' We should never compete if we had some lordly coach to tell us—'You may have a bowl of consomme, a lamb chop and a glass of milk for lunch.'

"We eat what we want when we want it. You know, we Englishmen eat a lot and we drink some. We have to do it to withstand the hardships of our climate. Perhaps if we trained on a diet like the American athletes do, we should become seriously ill. I believe the difference in climate may have a lot to do with it. If we became accustomed to the American climate I am quite sure that we would retain our form with the same mode of living. But regardless of reasons, I believe we have more fun out of athletics and get more out of it than your boys do."

$10,000 MEMORIAL TO PERCY HAUGHTON AT HARVARD FIELD

Harvard's memorial to the late Percy Duncan Haughton will be a cenotaph in front of the Locker building, on Soldiers' field, the famous athletic field of the Crimson athletes.

It is a fitting selection, for it will be near the path where for years the famous football coach trod daily on his way from the Locker building to the Harvard stadium gridiron to turn out the most finished football teams in Harvard's history.

It will cost $10,000. The bas relief on the front of the imposing monument shows the famous "P. D." kneeling in a familiar pose, gazing on a pair of struggling football players, one carrying the ball and the other bringing the carrier to earth with a scientific tackle.

BLOOMINGTON HURLER WORKS NO-HIT GAME

Y. M. C. A. DEFEAT THE WORKMEN BY SCORE OF 1 TO 0

STEVENS AFTER PITCHING A FINE GAME, BLEW UP

3 MEN SOCKED HIS OFFERINGS AND PETERSON SCORED

Y. M. C. A. vs. B. A. C.
New Municipal Diamond

Standings of Teams

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
B. P. O. E.	2	1	667
A. O. U. W.	2	1	667
Y. M. C. A.	1	2	333
B. A. C.	1	2	333

Three singles in a row off Stevens in the last inning of last night's contest gave the Y. M. C. A. the only run made during the game, and scored a victory over the Workmen, 1-0. Stevens, after pitching a fine game, blew up, and Peterson, Thorkildson and Ringer socked his offerings for solid blows, and Peterson tramped across the platter with the winning tally.

Engbretson held the Workmen to two hits and no runs, Whitlock and C. Tucker being the only men to hit safely. Several times he was pulled out of holes by nice plays, both by himself and his teammates. In the second inning Engbretson made a nice one-handed grab of Hegstad's liner to retire the side. In the fifth, Bollens took McAlpine's liner and doubled Stevens at first.

The game was the best yet seen, and the fans appreciated the game to the extent of a liberal collection. The games seen in the league now are as good as the ordinary out-of-town contest. Fans are invited to come and see them. Tonight the Y. M. C. A. and B. A. C. play off a postponed game from last week.

The game in detail is as follows:

First Inning

A. O. U. W.—McAlpine out, Peterson to Anderson; C. Tucker out same route; R. Tucker fanned.

Y. M. C. A.—Swanson struck out; Bollens out at first; Anderson beat out an infield tap down the third base line; Peterson out, Hegstad to Anderson.

Second Inning

A. O. U. W.—Howard out, Engbretson to Anderson; Norman out the same way; Whitlock hit safely to left field; Whitlock stole second; Hegstad lined to Engbretson, who made a fine stab of the ball.

Y. M. C. A.—Thorkildson struck out; Ringer singled over second; Dillan hit a long fly to McAlpine, who dropped it, but threw to second to catch Ringer; S. E. Engbretson fanned.

Third Inning

A. O. U. W.—Anderson out, Engbretson to Anderson; Stevens safe on W. Anderson's error; McAlpine flied out to Swanson; C. Tucker out, Engbretson to Anderson.

Y. M. C. A.—W. Engbretson singled over Howard's head, but was out trying to stretch it into a double. Swanson flied out to Anderson; Bollens flied out to McAlpine.

Fourth Inning

A. O. U. W.—Tucker flied out to Peterson; Howard safe when Anderson let Peterson's throw get through him; Norman out, Bollens to Anderson; Peterson threw out Whitlock at first, on a close play. Whitlock had the throw beat a mile, but slid for the bag, and his slide carried him only to within a foot of the base; if he had kept on running, he would have been safe, and Howard would have been home with a run.

Y. M. C. A.—Anderson out, Stevens to A. Anderson; Peterson and Thorkildson fanned.

Fifth Inning

A. O. U. W.—Hegstad took first by being hit by the ball; Anderson hit to Engbretson, who threw to Dillan to force Hegstad, but Anderson was safe when Dillan's throw to first was low. Stevens safe on Peterson's error. McAlpine lined to Bollens, who doubled Stevens at first.

Y. M. C. A.—Ringer safe on Hegstad's muff; Dillan flied out to McAlpine; S. E. Engbretson out at first. W. Engbretson out, Hegstad to Anderson.

Sixth Inning

Bollens took S. E. Engbretson's place behind the bat, Thorkildson went to third, and Weber to right field.

A. O. U. W.—C. Tucker singled over second; R. Tucker flied out to Ringer; Howard whiffed; Norman forced C. Tucker at second.

Y. M. C. A.—Swanson safe on Hegstad's error; Bollens sacrificed, was out at first, and Swanson kept going around second toward third, but was caught, when Anderson made a nice throw to Hegstad to catch him. Anderson fanned the air.

Seventh Inning

A. O. U. W.—Whitlock out, Thorkildson to Anderson; Hegstad out on a grounder to Anderson; Anderson flied out to Thorkildson.

Y. M. C. A.—The Y. M. C. A. came to bat for the last time with the score nothing to nothing. Peterson socked the pill to left for a long single; Thorkildson followed suit with a long single to center; Peterson and Thorkildson worked an unexpected double steal and got into a threatening position to score, with no one out. Ringer fouled several, then got one to his liking and slammed it through short-stop for a single, scoring Peterson with the winning run.

ELKS STATE CONVENTION HERE TO BE A CLASSIC

21ST ANNUAL GATHERING HERE IN EARLY AUGUST

'THE JOLLY ELK" GIVES CONVENTION WIDEST PUBLICITY

PARADE A COLORFUL SPECTACLE WITH 20 BANDS AND DRUM CORPS

With a two line heading right across the page, "The Jolly Elk" published by Lannie C. Horne, in Minneapolis, gives widest publicity to the coming Elks state convention in Brainerd.

The page article, embellished with pictures, says in part:

August 20, 21 and 22. These are the dates of the twenty-first annual gathering of Minnesota State Elks' Association and the greatest convention in the history of the state body is forecast as a result of the splendid preliminary work being done by Brainerd Elks.

Brainerd, Minn., which entertains the next convention, has left nothing undone which might add to the comfort of the visiting throngs and entertainment of a kind never surpassed at anything save a national gathering has already been arranged by the local committee.

The opening day of the convention Thursday, August 20, will be given over to the election of officers and transaction of business matters by the State Association, followed by automobile tours, complimentary banquet to Exalted Rulers, Secretaries and State Officers, the ritualistic contest at Elks Hall and entertainment for the ladies.

On Friday, August 21, there will be a baseball game, etc. There will be a registered trapshooting tournament and Brother Elwood Fitchette of Minneapolis Lodge and a trapshooter of national fame, will preside on this occasion. There will be golf matches at the Brainerd Country club and acquatic sports at Lum Park, and for those who wish, auto tours to points of interest.

In the afternoon there will be band contests with cash prizes of $300, $200 and $100 for the successful contestants and drum corps contests for a beautiful silver trophy. The parade will be a colorful spectacle with more than twenty bands and drum corps in the line of march.

The closing day, Saturday, August 22, has been designated as "Breezy Point Day" in honor of Captain Billy Fawcett, Brainerd Elk and leader of the championship Olympic trapshooting team, which defeated all opponents in Europe. Tournaments of every description are slated for this day and Secretary John J. Cummins of Brainerd Lodge is asking that entrants get in touch with him at once.

There will be a golf tourney over a perfect nine hole course, a horseshoe tournament, a bowling tournament for the individual championship of the state, tennis, trapshooting, bowling and swimming and all lodges are requested to select representations for the various events.

Breezy Point Lodge is one of the show spots of the nation and invitations have been extended Grand Exalted Ruler Federal Judge W. H. Atwell of Dallas, Texas, Grand Secretary Fred C. Robinson of Chicago, Judge John C. Karel of Milwaukee, Past Grand Exalted Ruler John G. Price of Columbus, Ohio, and other Elks prominent in the councils of the order to be guests of Brother Fawcett.

Brainerd ladies of the Elks have made plans for the entertainment of all lady visitors to the convention.

Add to all this the many natural advantages that the city of Brainerd and the surrounding country has to offer and it may readily be seen that the Crow Wing county metropolis will be the Mecca of all Elkdom for the dates of August 20, 21 and 22. Our parting word to readers of the Jolly Elk is to make your reservations now. Get in touch with the housing committee of Brainerd lodge and tell them to set aside rooms for your party. This will be the greatest state gathering ever held in Minnesota and you will want to be among those present.

OLE OLSON, FAMOUS LIQUOR SLEUTH, FINDS LEAKY 'RADIO PARTS'

(By United Press)

Duluth, July 29.—Ole Olson, famous as a liquor sleuth in the northwest, knows little about radio, but he is sure that radio parts don't leak. With Charles Benson, another federal agent, he seized 500 quarts of alleged Scotch whiskey in the Omaha line depot. The liquor was labeled "radio parts" and shipped from Minneapolis.

$6,000 OBTAINED ON FORGED CHECKS

ST. PAUL BANKS AND STORES VICTIMIZED IN NATION-WIDE RING

St. Paul, July 29.—St. Paul merchants and banks have been mulcted of $6,000 by a nationwide ring which is cashing forged Pullman Co. checks.

This estimate was made today by Burns Detective agency men who are trying to locate members of the gang which is cashing the checks.

The checks have been reported from almost every state in the country and the total losses amount to $100,000, according to Burns detectives.

The forgers have printed facsimiles of the Pullman Co. check blanks and when they are filled out, colored men in Pullman porter uniforms are sent out to cash them. Most of the checks have been for $90.

When the ring first began operations, the checks were usually deposited in checking accounts in banks and about half of the money checked out before the fraud was discovered

More recently the method was changed and the checks have been cashed at large stores. Most of the checks cashed in St. Paul have been handled in this way.

In Minneapolis the loss has been much less than in St. Paul. Only $600 worth of the checks have been reported in Minneapolis.

MONTHLY BUSINESS SURVEY ENCOURAGING

(By United Press)

Chicago, July 29.—Bumper crops renewed industry in meat packing, increased activity in the production and sales of farm equipment, contrasted with a decline in automobile and furniture sales furnished the high lights of the monthly business survey of the seventh federal reserve district made public today.

The survey forecast a bumper corn crop throughout the central west and announces that harvesting of small grains is proceeding rapidly. The yield in hay is low, but is offset by a heavy carry over from a year ago. Early crops, particularly of canning peas, made a poor showing, but the prospects for the later crop looked bright, the report states. Iowa crops appear to be particularly above average.

JAPAN TO HONOR DEAD AMBASSADOR

REMAINS OF BANCROFT TO BE SENT TO U. S. IN WARSHIP

(By United Press)

Tokio, July 29—Japan is planning rare honors for America's dead Ambassador Edgar A. Bancroft.

It was learned today that the government is disposed to send his remains to the United States aboard a warship accompanied by a mission probably headed by Rear Admiral Tamura.

Bancroft was the third American envoy to die suddenly in Japan and his passing after a period of convalescence came as a great shock to a large party of United States congressmen here on a trip.

GREAT NORTHERN HAS ENCOURAGING FINANCIAL REPORT

HALF MILLION DOLLARS MORE AVAILABLE FOR DIVIDENDS IN 1924

OPERATING ECONOMY, EFFICIENCY AND CO-OPERATION MAKES IT POSSIBLE

(By United Press)

St. Paul, July 29. — The Great Northern railway has half a million dollars more available for dividends for 1924 than in the previous two years.

In its 36th annual report for the year ending December 31st, the Great Northern shows a net operating income of $6,844,566 and a balance available for dividends of $3,051,355.

"Railway operating revenues in 1924 were approximately $10,000,000 less than in 1923," says the report. "This increase was more than offset by a decrease in the operating expenses. The average cost of handling 100 tons of freight one mile was 57.6 cents in 1924 as compared with 63.3 cents in 1923. This was accomplished by economies resulting from the use of improved facilities, such as enlarged terminals and passing tracks, additional second track, automatic block signal, grade reductions, more powerful and better locomotives and modern shop and roundhouse machinery and tools; all of which, of course, involve the expenditure of large capital sums. Another important element in operating economy was the individual efficiency and co-operation of employes with the management.

"Great Northern taxes increased from $4,790,000 in 1914 to $10,257,000 in 1924, an increase of 114 per cent.

"It should be simple for all to agree that reduction of railway taxes affords one very effective and positive means of lowering the cost of transportation."

(By United Press)

Washington, July 29.—Wheat production in 17 countries which normally produce more than three-fourths of the world's wheat crop will total 2,109,000,000 bushels, an increase of 44,000,000 bushels over last year, the department of agriculture forecast today. The crop is not yet made and there is still a chance for unfavorable weather conditions to affect adversely the final outturn, the department added.

DOZED AT WHEEL OF HIS TRUCK; HITS A TRAIN

(By United Press)

Mankato, Minn., July 29.—Dozing at the wheel of his truck, Oliver Kloppenbach, 21, crashed into an Omaha passenger train at Truman, 40 miles south of here, early today. He was thrown beneath the engine and his body badly mangled. Death was instantaneous.

J. E. Hyde, engineer of the train, said the crossing was clear for half a mile and that Kloppenbach evidently was asleep at the wheel. He was driving a gravel truck from Sleepy Eye.

THREATS OF LABOR TROUBLE FACING NATION

ANTHRACITE COAL AND TEXTILES ARE THE TROUBLE CENTERS

WAGE REDUCTIONS IN LATTER IS A SERIOUS AFFAIR

(By United Press)

Swampscott, Mass., July 29.—Threats of widespread labor difficulties and possible strikes in two essential industries faced President Coolidge today.

With the anthracite coal situation becoming increasingly serious, the American Federation of Labor has come out in open hostility toward the New England textile manufacturers who are reducing wages in many plants.

The textile reductions are serious because of the great gerenal influence of this industry on the country as a whole and because bad times in New England would be certain to endanger the standing of the republican party and would damage Senator Butler's chances of being re-elected in Massachusetts next year. Butler, close friend and senate spokesman of the president, has large holding in one of the mills which reduced wages recently.

400 FARMERS VOTE ENDORSEMENT OF STATE SPUD GROWERS

Princeton, Minn., July 29.—Four hundred farmers of this section last night reversed previous action and indorsed the Minnesota Potato Exchange.

At a similar meeting July 18th the farmers voted not to co-operate. Last night the indorsement of the new plan of operation was overwhelming.

COOLIDGE FAVORS NEW AIR SYSTEM

BELIEVES WILBUR'S PLANS FOR DIRIGIBLE BASE ARE FEASIBLE

Swampscott, Mass., July 29.—Secretary of the Navy Wilbur's plan to concentrate all the navy's dirigibles at San Diego, has not been submitted to Pres. Coolidge for his information or approval.

The president believes, however, that if the navy department has decided upon the plan, there is good reason for the radical change in the nation's air way system, it was said at the summer White House.

Mr. Coolidge has been advised of secret development of both army and navy air services which convinces him that a tremendous improvement has ben meade in the air fighting resources of the nation in recent months.

The president let it become known that he was in hearty approval with the plan of Maj. Gen. Patrick as head of the army air service.

GENTLE HAND OF CHRISTIANSON TO BRING PEACE

EXPECTED TO SMOOTHE RUFFLED FEATHERS OF DEPARTMENT HEADS

SQUABBLE OVER AUTHORITY IS AS YET UNSETTLED

(By United Press)

St. Paul, July 29. — The gentle hand of Governor Theodore Christianson today has failed to smooth the ruffled feathers of department heads.

The equabble over authority is as yet unsettled.

Conferences most of the day yesterday accomplished but one thing — a promise by those engaged in the departmental controversy to "talk things over."

Governor Christianson talked with members of the "big three" department of administration and finance. He urged that differences be settled "across the table" rather than in the press and in legal process. The governor is trying to get the two defiant department heads to confer.

Ray Chase, state auditor and member of the department of conservation still retains F. R. Paine of Duluth as park commissioner and Paine is working without salary because the "big three" refuses to allow his appointment.

NO CLOTHES LESS REPUGNANT THAN PRESENT STYLES

(By United Press)

London, July 29.—If women were to go about without any clothes at all, it would be "far less repugnant to people of good taste," than are the present suggestive styles, in the opinion of 79-year-old Cardinal Gasquet, librarian at the Vatican, who is here on a visit.

"There is more suggestiveness about the flimsy clothing they now wear than there would be in complete nudity," said the aged churchman.

Meantime, Rev. Richard Free, an English vicar, preached a sermon in which he declared "day by day in every way the fair sex is growing nakeder and nakeder" and questioned whether the police would have to be called in as they were on account of the costumes Parisian ladies wore after the French revolution.

DUPLICITY AND INTRIGUE RULE

ADVENTUROUS CHICAGO YOUTHS FIND WANDERLUST LEAD TO JAIL

(By United Press)

St. Paul, July 29.—Duplicity and intrigue split the army of adventurers recruited by three Chicago youths and wanderlust lead them to jail here today.

The boys who headed for the west less than a week ago, painted rare pictures of fortunes and their latest idea was to join a revolution in Mexico.

All went well until Joe Debeno trusted his $14 to "Brave Bill" Skally, leader of the expedition. While Joe, 17-year-old lieutenant, was in a barber shop, his companions disappeared. Debeno wandered about in search of his companions until bed time. Tired and hungry he went to the city jail and asked for a bunk. Then he told his story.

Police found "Brave Bill" Skally and Tony Bersea along with three other recruits in a vacant house which neighbors said they were trying to dismantle. Enlisted with the Chicago trio was a boy from Grand Rapids, Michigan, and two others from St. Paul.

Formal charges are expected to be filed soon against Dr. R. J. Carroll Brown, negro, asd Dr. David Gordon.

Detectives who stopped the boy, found morphine on his person and the youth said he had gotten it from the two doctors. He said his home was in Illinois.

SIMPLICITY AND AN UTTER LACK OF CEREMONY

DAYTON MOURNS PASSING OF THE GREAT COMMONER

HIS WIDOW BEARS UP WITH CALM FORTITUDE

(By United Press)

On board the Bryan funeral train enroute to Washington, July 29.—Leaving behind a sorrowing little Tennessee town whose citizens almost to the last man, woman and child gathered to witness the departure, a train with two special cars attached today bore toward Washington the remains of W. J. Bryan.

The simplicity and lack of ceremony which at the request of Mrs. Bryan marked the reverent placing of the bronze casket in its car served only to emphasize the depth of feeling with which Dayton saw the last of its champion.

Around the little railroad station before the train pulled out about nine o'clock were gathered the simple folk of the Tennessee hills whose cause the commoner espoused. They came to say a last farewell leaving the town quiet and deserted behind them.

Friends of Bryan who had followed him in his last fight for fundamentalism, acted as an escort while townsfolk of Dayton gathered at the station. Mrs. Bryan refused to see the features of her husband in death, dreading a collapse. She was led into the little parlor where the body lay last night at her own request, but kept her eyes on the floor.

"I won't look at him until the very last," she said. "I feel that if I looked at him now I would break down and I must prevent doing that. I don't want to look at him until they close the casket for the last time."

Bearing up with calm fortitude, the widow was taken back to her wheel chair in another room. An invalid for the last five years, Mrs. Bryan is unable to use her legs or arms because of a form of paralysis.

Look for Treasure Hidden by Alexander

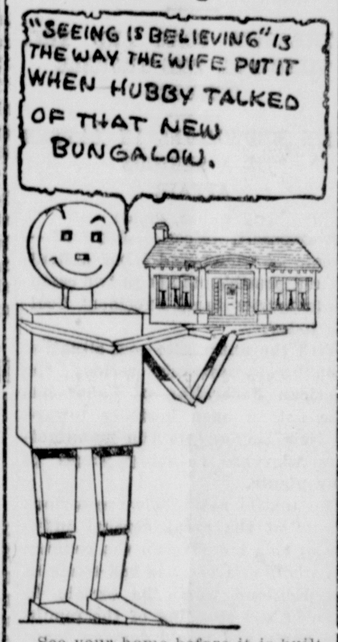

When Alexander the Great was marching against the Persians in 331 B. C. a part of his army mutinied on the shores of the Caspian sea. There is a legend that he hid all his gold, royal possessions and spoils of war somewhere in the vicinity to keep them from falling into the hands of the mutineers. The Archeological society of the Republic of Azerbaijan has begun a search for this treasure. It is believed to be buried about sixty-five miles from the city of Baku. There are no historical data on the subject as to the location of the treasure, but an old man eighty years old living at Andrievka says he owns an ancient map which was stolen from a Turkish sultan many years ago. This map, he says, indicates that the treasure was buried near his village. Whether or not the archeologists locate the treasure, it is believed that they will at least excavate many valuable relics throwing light on the peoples and nations which inhabited the country before the time of Christ.—Pathfinder Magazine.

25TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gallagher Surprise Them on Occasion

50 GUESTS ARE PRESENT

Presented Happy Couple With a Beautiful Set of Silverware

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gallagher perpetrated a surprise on them Saturday evening, about 50 people invading the Gallagher home, 501 G street, Northeast, the occasion being the 25th wedding anniversary of the couple.

The evening was spent informally and at 11 o'clock delicious refreshments were served, the guests bringing all of the necessities for an excellent repast.

S. H. Wooden, acting as spokesman for those the guests, presented Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher with a beautiful set of silverware. In his remarks Mr. Wooden told of the high esteem in which the Gallaghers' are held and offered the congratulations of the assemblage on the occasion of the couple's silver anniversary, expressing the hope that they would double this length of time, so that their many friends might assist them in observing their golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher have resided in Brainerd for the past 15 years, coming to this city from Pine River. Mr. Gallagher is employed by the Northern Pacific Railway as trainman. There are eight children in the family.

Origin of "Infantry"

The word "infantry" owes its origin to an infanta, or princess royal of Spain. Once when a king of Spain was conducting a war against the Moors his cavalry got badly beaten. Thereupon the princess immediately raised a regiment of foot soldiers to go to their aid. Foot soldiers were ever after known in Spain as the infanta's men, and from this we get our term "infantry."

Lifelike at That

A famous French painter prohibited smoking in his atelier. One morning entering, he saw a student with a lighted cigarette between his fingers. Going up to him the painter said: "That's a curious kind of pencil you've got there, my young friend. May I ask what you propose to draw with it?"

"Clouds," was the ready answer.—Boston Transcript.

Slightly Exaggerated

Among the letters recently received at the office of a benevolent society was one running thus: "This unfortunate young man is the only son of a widow who died childless, and his earnings maintain his aged father and infant brothers, whose sole support he is."

LIFE SAVING DEMONSTRATIONS

Alfred S. Moreau, of the Red Cross, to be at Lum Park

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY

Demonstrations Begin Promptly at 7 P. M. Enhanced by Band Concert

Alfred S. Moreau arrived this afternoon and will conduct instructions in life saving together with practical demonstrations, at Lum park this Wednesday evening and again on Thursday evening. The public is invited and urged to attend both evenings.

The demonstrations will begin promptly at 7 o'clock each night, and will be enhanced by band concerts which begin an hour later. The Brainerd Municipal band will give its weekly concert at Lum park tonight, in conjunction with Mr. Moreau's demonstrations, and the Brainerd Boys band will furnish a concert on Thursday evening.

Following the demonstrations tonight there will be a public dance in the Lum park pavilion, to which everyone is invited. The Breezy Point dance orchestra, talented musicians from the twin cities, who have made an excellent reputation for themselves this season at Capt. Fawcett's resort, will furnish the music for this dance. Local people who have danced to this orchestra's music at Breezy Point are delighted with the music furnished, and are looking forward to this evening's dance with a great deal of anticipation. It is expected that a large crowd will take advantage of this opportunity to dance to the music furnished by the orchestra. Quite a number from Breezy Point are planning to come to Brainerd for the occasion.

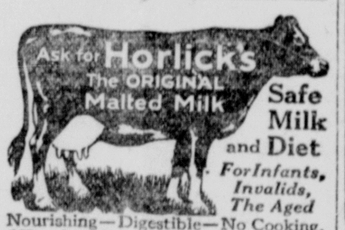

This afternoon Mr. Moreau is giving swimmers' tests to Boy Scouts and junior boys at Lum park, and on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock similar tests will be given Girl Scouts and junior girls at the park.

Director E. A. Page of the Boys Band states that his organization has prepared a number of new selections for tomorrow evening's concert. Much interest has developed locally in this youthful and talented band, and Brainerd citizens grasp every opportunity to hear its concerts.

Now, the public is learning that this Eight is as extraordinary in these respects as in the new interpretation it puts on fine motoring.

Owners habitually drive thousands of miles without even minor adjustments—which means that this is a trustworthy car for a woman.

The fact is, the Hupmobile Eight is built like a racing car—that is, built to travel all day long at top speed. Naturally, such a car, in ordinary day-after-day service, is certain to prove a revelation in stand-up-ability.

PEQUOT APPRECIATES PUBLICITY

PEQUOT recently gained wide publicity and the Pequot Review voices an appreciation of the work fellow newspaper men did for their town.

Last week the newspapers in the territory in which the Crow Wing County Fair is a matter of interest gave the coming fair publicity that would have cost the association in the neighborhood of $75 had it been paid for at regular advertising rates. The combined circulation in which the story appeared of the Pequot community's effort in repairing the fair buildings after the wind storm had done great damage was not less than 8,000. This means that at least 20,000 people in the territory from which the fair might draw exhibits and attendance have been told of the coming exhibition and have had their interest aroused to some extent at least.

Community enterprises owe much to their newspapers—much more than is often realized. Community success depends in much greater degree upon community enterprise than upon the enterprise of any individual. Communities that back their newspapers and help them make the most of community opportunities are the forward stepping ones. Business men who do not believe that it pays to spend money for advertising, and those who do not feel they can spend the time and effort required for learning and putting into practice the principles of successful advertising, can still well afford to buy newspaper space regularly for the indirect benefit they receive through their newspapers. Making a better newspaper invariably makes a better town.

A community that helps itself invariably attracts the attention of the world. Pequot roused itself after its little windstorm just as Santa Barbara did after the earth tipped things up. The spirit of self reliance is always appreciated and in the end gets more cooperation, cheer and indirect aid than sitting in the dumps and shedding tears and like Micawber of Dickens waiting for something to turn up.

ADVANTAGE OF SMALL NEWSPAPERS

THE Manufacturer and Industrial News Bureau, E. Hofer & Sons, publishers, Salem, Oregon, sends out a news bulletin and clipsheet of editorials which is a most excellent service. A recent observation regarding the advantage of the small newspaper carries many pertinent truths.

From an ethical standpoint it can fairly be claimed that the country press and small city dailies have a marked advantage over the big metropolitan newspapers. The smaller papers are conducted by their owners who are personally known to the people and business men of the community and read in nearly every family.

The owners, editors and publishers are freer to express their honest convictions than the highly commercialized city press, too often run by hired employes, principally to earn dividends. The small daily or country weekly that lives up to its opportunities represents the stand of personal journalism in behalf of the community. As long as the small city dailies and country weeklies remain true to their best traditions, with their editorials devoted to constructive policies, their influence in journalism will increase.

"WHERE THE PINES BEGIN"

JOHN F. WOODHEAD, president of the Brainerd Rotary club, and Ford super salesman, always an original individual, has evoked a new slogan for our town of Brainerd which is a good one and a distinctive one. True, in the pioneer days when Brainerd was a big town on the timber line and five sawmills were busy cutting, we were a "City of Pines." But the virgin timber line has retreated and few big pines rear their heads in the city limits.

But the slogan, "Where the Pines Begin," is perfectly proper and a suggestive one. We make no claim for timber like we once had or like that which still hits the sky in Oregon and Washington, but we can truthfully assert that Brainerd is the town where the summer vacationist gets his first view of the pines. And many a tourist goes home with a bit of our pines decorating his automobile and every hunter and fisherman, later in the season, decorates his trophies of sea or land with some of the pine boughs.

BRYAN'S CONCEPTION OF DEATH

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN'S conception of death, as expressed in his last written speech, is a thought beautifully expressed and one that will be quoted frequently:

"Christ has made of death a narrow, starlit strip between the companionship of yesterday and the reunion of tomorrow."

The sincerest tribute accorded Bryan was by a western man out in the Brainerd Lake region, a brother newspaper man, who remarked: "Well, Bryan is one newspaper man who was headed in the right direction when he died."

The last speech he wrote will be his best monument, and to live in the hearts and inner consciousness of the people is a better abiding place than under carved marble or in golden sarcophagus.

TRAPSHOOTING

TARGET and trap manufacturers report that 1925 so far this year has been the biggest in history. They are crowded with orders and running to full capacity turning out the clay birds and traps to throw them. This shows that trapshooting is becoming more popular every day in all sections of the country.

The Elks national convention at Portland, Oregon, this year had a special trapshooting tournament and the Brainerd state convention of the Elks has two big trapshooting events, one staged by the Brainerd Gun club on Friday, August 21, at their grounds in Brainerd and the other a tournament with two representatives from each Elks lodge, staged at Breezy Point Lodge, Saturday, August 22, by Captain William H. Fawcett.

A RECENT issue of the Little Falls Daily Transcript contained these wise observations, referring to automobiling or applicable to general conditions: "All the world is looking for a place to park," and "Most people in this age seem to care little where they are going, just so they go."

We quote further from the Jolly Elk: Owatonna Lodge which is one of the healthiest units of the order, notwithstanding the fact that it is the baby lodge of Minnesota, is making great plans for the State Elks Convention at Brainerd and expects to send the drum and bugle corps as well as the band in addition to a goodly number of the brothers in August. Brother W. E. Merchant, who enjoys the distinction of being the drum major of the Elks organization, says that funds are being raised and that the visit to Brainerd is being looked forward to by every member of the drum corps and band. George D. Holden is the director of the latter unit and has succeeded in welding together one of the finest brass organizations in the northwest.

"We are coming to Brainerd," says Exalted Ruler O. M. Thurber, "and we will enter every contest." It might be well for other lodges to absorb some of the spirit which the infant organization of Minnesota radiates. This lodge boasts 500 members in good standing and is one of the lodges in the country to show a healthy increase last year.

Stillwater Coming

The Stillwater column in the Jolly Elk reports that Brainerd lodge has a wonderful program for the entertainment of the State Association. It will pay to include Brainerd in your vacation territory. There is lenty of good fishing, swimming, etc., up there, and you can find out where to look for deer, bear, etc., when you begin to outline your trip to the north woods in December, or whatever month is appropriate for hunting deer.

St. Cloud Coming

According to Secretary F. X. Beaver, St. Cloud will send a large delegation. They appreciate the cordial way in which Brainerd turned out for their convention, when St. Cloud entertained the Elks.

Duluth and the Messabe range gave the Brainerd Elks official program much support and the lodges from this territory will be largely represented at Brainerd.

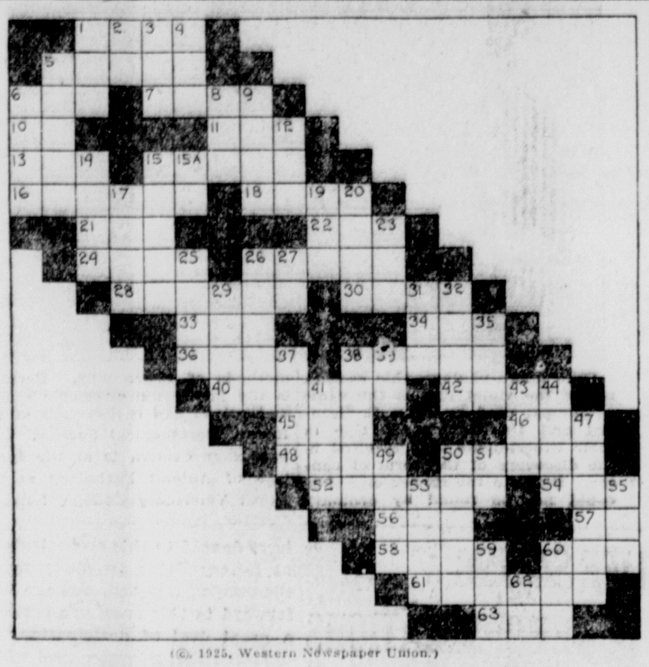

Northern Pacific Assists Too

The Northern Pacific is assisting too and will make up special trains in St. Paul or Minneapolis should the demand require it. Very reasonable rates have been made for tourist sleepers and standard Pullmans. With 30 people to the car the per capita charge for three days is $4.25 for tourist car and $7.57 for standard, and covers sleeping car accommodations enroute and occupancy while at Brainerd. These figures include the 3 days per diem, surcharge and parking charge, the latter covering feing, watering, switching and sanitation.

TODAY'S DISPATCH CROSS WORD PUZZLE

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

When the correct letters are placed in the white spaces this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white spaces up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill the white squares to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

"SOME WILD NOTIONS I HAVE KNOWN"

"THIS IS LIFE"

A flying car, a crowd of half-drunken youths, a roadhouse, a midnight hour and a metallic laugh piercing the night—"THIS IS LIFE."

Was ever a foolish girl more mistaken?

Life is a climb—a pulling of one's self out of the mire of ignorance, incompetency, jealousy, fear and bestiality. Man, alone of all living creatures, has the upward look. His face is toward the sun and stars.

Life is a struggle—a fight against appetite, passion, crudeness and ugliness; a striving toward sonship with God.

Life is evolution—the evolving of genius from the commonplace, of prima donnas from school girls and presidents from railsplitters.

Life is a thrill—not the thrill of passion run riot but the thrill of masterful manhood; not the thrill of eternal triangles but of square living. The happiest people are those who have given their desperate best in the name of a great ideal. There is no greater thrill than to have done one's best.

"Life is a beautiful adventure," said Charles Frohman, sinking with the Titanic, with his face set toward eternity.

"Life is vitalized ether," said the great scientist looking through his microscope, at an atom. How much of life he was missing.

Life is not something to be exploited, but something to be made. Not something from which we may wring the last possible thrill, but something into which we can put the best possible endeavor.

Jesus of Nazareth, the greatest success that humanity has ever known, said, "I am the way, the truth and the life."

This is life—to live like a son of God.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND IS TORN BY A MOVE LIBERALIZE ITS FAITH

ARTICLES OF FAITH SUBJECT OF CONTENTION

MANY DIFFICULTIES ENTERING INTO SITUATION

By KEITH JONES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, July 29. — Proposed "liberalization" of the thirty-nine Articles of Faith of the Church of England has precipitated an intense discussion for and against the move which threatens effects striking to the very heart of the church.

Advocates of the change declare that the alarming decrease in the number of young men seeking to become clergymen and the apparent waning interest of the young generally in formal religion illustrate the need for liberalization.

But opponents, especially the Anglo-Catholic wing of the church which is already considering separation from the Protestant-Episcopal section, are objecting vigorously to any alteration in the time tried creed.

Start of Controversy

Starting as a result of an official inquiry instituted by the Archbishops of Canterbury and York into the reasons for the decline in number of candidates for admission to the ministry this question of the revision of the Articles of Faith so as to conform to Twentieth Century enlightenment has suddenly sprung into a prominent place in public discussion.

While acceptance of the "Thirty Nine Articles" is required for ordination of the clergy only, and not required by the laity as a condition of admission to the church of the question of their revision is nevertheless exciting intense interest. It is a step, it is felt, toward the further liberalization of the interpretation of the Bible permitted the laity at large.

The following points in the archbishops' report are attracting the most extensive comment:

Archbishops' Report

"We believe that it would bring relief" (that is to the dearth of candidates for the ministry)—"if it were decided that the Thirty Nine Articles are no longer a satisfactory statement for the purpose of assent, however valuable they may be as a document which sets forth in the language of its day the principles followed by the Church of England. In our opinion a restatement of these principles is required.

"We are agreed in rejecting the suggestion which has sometimes been made that the Church of England attempt to re-write the Creeds. We are, however, of the opinion that great relief would be afforded if the declaration made by the Bishops in 1922 could be followed up by a statement from the Episcopate as a whole to the effect that, recognizing the intellectual difficulties which arise out of some of the clauses in the Creeds, they would not look upon perplexity or uncertainty on such points as in all cases a barrier to Ordination, and that they would give consideration to all such difficulties brought before them individually."

"We believe" continues the report "that among the more serious men of the younger generation there are not a few who, though religion means much to them, and they are earnestly trying to think out their own beliefs, yet find themselves out of sympathy with the Church and with what is sometimes termed 'institutional religion' in general."

Liberal Views

A general inquiry among the "Protestant" clergy following the issuance of the archbishops' report showed a distinct trend of comment in favor of the proposed changes.

Said the Bishop of Willesdon, "I think it would be well if it were decided that the Thirty Nine Articles are no longer a satisfactory statement for the purpose of assent. Some of the Articles are all right but others do not interest people today as they did in the sixteenth century when they were formulated and, I think, should be done away with or revised."

"The intellectual difficulties that many potential candidates have to face are undoubtedly very real" declared Canon R. A. Mitchell, vicar of St. Michael's, in commenting on the problem. "I do not think however that these difficulties would be removed by any remodeling of the Articles. Far better abolish subscription to the creeds entirely, and be content with the simple assent to the Apostles' Creed."

Opposition

On the other hand there is a strong contingent in the ranks of the Anglo-Catholics—who correspond to the Episcopal "high church" in America—who maintain that the salvation of the life of the Church rests not with its deinstitutionalization, but rather by an insistence on rites and forms.

They say that the Church can be saved only by an appeal to faith and not to intellect, and they point to the rather extraordinary strength their movement has developed in the last five years as confirmation of their viewpoint.

It is because of its bearing on the already tense situation that exists between the Protestant, Episcopalians and the Anglo-Catholic Episcopalians that this report of the archbishops is arousing such wide interest. It is possible, it is said, that it may precipitate the break between the factions and rend the Church of England.

BLACK RUST IS REPORTED

HEAVY IN SOME SECTIONS OF NORTH DAKOTA

(By United Press)

Fargo, N. D., July 29.—Black rust is heavy in some sections of the state and in other parts of North Dakota there is only a trace, George Mayou said today upon completion of an inspection tour. He covered most of the state as head of the rust prevention bureau of the agriculture college.

"The extent of rust damage cannot yet be determined," he said. "Much depends upon the advancement of wheat when rust struck and the weather between now and harvest time. Present weather conditions are not favorable to rust development.

(By United Press)

Brussels, Belgium, July 29.—Members of the Belgian debt funding commission left today for France to embark Thursday from Cherbourg for New York.

Before leaving a member of the commission told the United Press:

"We are hopeful that America will be generous now as in war times and will not impose too hard conditions. Belgian taxes are heavy and new obligations would be disastrous."

Masters of Short Story

No one is in a position to say which nation has produced the greatest short story writers. Russia, France, England and the United States are noted for literature of this class. The French regard Edgar Allan Poe with special esteem and some of the French critics credit him with being "the father of the short story."

Newest Hoxie Film Booked by Lyceum

Keen Camp, a small settlement some 5,000 feet high in the Sierra Nevada Mountains was the scene of Hoxie's latest film. Great peaks tower all about the broad valley which contains many big trees and meadows where cattle wax fat.

This picture, "The Western Wallop," comes to the Lyceum Theatre Thursday and Friday, and is a drama of the cattle country and Hoxie is cast as a man who, after obtaining his liberty from the penitentiary on parole, seeks to live down his past and obtain employment on a big ranch. He save the daughter of a big ranch owner from stage robbers, but the necessity of keeping the conditions of his parole involve him in bitter circumstances.

Trained Bear Runs Wild in City Streets

Bessie, the bear that has scored a hit in several Vitagraph productions and has a prominent part in 'The Beloved Brute," which is now showing at the Lyceum Theatre, gave way to her temperament while making the production and cavorted through the streets of La Jolla, Cal. Bessie did no harm—she's too playful for that, but for a long time she struck terror into the hearts of the timid. She could not be induced to return to her cage until the corner grocer's stock of honey had been purchased, and she was lured home with the prospects of a feast.

The bear has an important role in the production, which has as a background a traveling circus with a dancing girl, a wrestler, and a fortune teller.

CAPABLE RIVAL FOR HELEN WILLS NOT ON HORIZON

POPULAR GIRL SLATED TO WIN HER THIRD NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

LASS FROM FAR WEST STACKS UP AS CERTAIN AS TILDEN

By ART CARLSON

New York, July 29.—Helen Wills to win the 1925 national singles tennis title in the fair sex fiesta.

For after dissecting the field there appears no entry apt to pry the California girl loose from her coveted crown.

Frankly, "Little Poker Face," as she is affectionately called, should romp through to her third straight success. And, if anything, she ought to accomplish the feat with less trouble than in either of her last two starts.

Certain as Tilden

The lass from the far west sector stacks up just about as certain a winner as does the lanky Tilden in the men's event. That's close to the maximum of surety. Not much of a gamble in either case.

Miss Wills seems to be at the peak of her game. At least the splendid performances she has uncorked since coming to this section of the country leads one to believe that as great as she was in 1923 and 1924 she is even greater this season.

Scanning the net horizon as far as the naked optic will permit, we find no outstanding players, no possible "dark horse," coming up from the rank and file capable of giving the champion a battle.

And the recognized stars such as Molla Mallory, Eleanor Goss, Marion Jessup and so on have been brushed aside by the winsome lass from the golden west in the two most recent campaigns, making them less formidable now.

May Cause Trouble

Betty Ryan, talented English girl, may cause a bit of trouble. She's considered Europe's premier player next to the incomparable Suzanne. But if Helen Wills is in top form even the highly-touted invader shouldn't bring on any undue anxiety.

The champion has youth in her favor. She's improving each year. Should continue to improve yet a while. If she were good enough to win last year and the year before, her chances this season should be rosier than ever.

Many critics are predicting another hectic clash in the final round between Miss Wills and Mrs. Mallory. The meetings of these two arch-rivals have become almost as common as the celebrated Tilden-Johnson duels. Others opine it will be Betty Ryan who will make the titleholder hustle.

Can Equal Records

By winning this season Helen Wills can tie the three-time marks of Hazel Hotchkiss (the present Mrs. George W. Wightman) and Mary Browne, champions just before Mrs. Mallory, then Molla Bjurstedt, swept down from the north to sensational success.

The California maiden has a long road to traverse to equal or even approach Mrs. Mallory's record, however. For Molla won the crown seven times, four in successive seasons.

From 1915 to 1922, inclusive, with the exception of 1918, she sat atop the gilded throne, the empress of tennis. Her achievements have no parallel in the women's national net pastime.—St. Paul Daily News.

When Brides Were Bought

Wedding gifts apparently have developed from the earlier custom of exchange of gifts between bride and bridegroom, in turn based upon marriage by consideration, where the suitor had to give to the father of his intended wife a bride price or present and the daughter was provided with a dowry as a return gift.

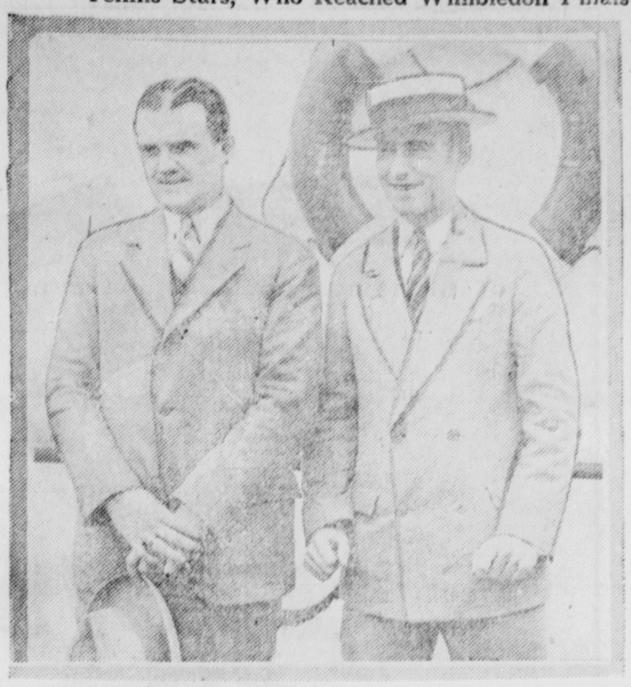

The price for a bride shows considerable variation, according to the wealth of the interested parties and the accomplishments of the bride. Among certain tribes a couple of pigs or goats seemed to be sufficient capital necessary for investment in one good husky helpmate. Among the Bedouins of Mount Sinai Westermarch tells us the price of a girl is "from $5 to $20," but sometimes amounts to $30 "if the girl is well connected and very handsome."

GOLF

by P. J. GAUDIN

Instructor at SKOKIE COUNTRY CLUB & UNION LEAGUE CLUB Chicago

41—Care of the Clubs.

Even before the golfer has acquired any great amount of skill, he will develop a positive affection for one or more clubs. They have the feeling of fitting, analagous to the feeling of wearing a well-fitting suit of clothes. The actual choice of clubs never is ended until the player has that same feeling for every club in his bag. In the course of years many a player has bought a hundred clubs and more before he is satisfied.

And that feeling of satisfaction can be destroyed over night when a set of clubs has been used during a rain, put away without attention and one or more of the shafts is found to have warped a trifle. Steel shafts are not subject to this calamity—for that is what it is to find a treasured shaft getting out of shape. There is no use in trying to doctor up a hickory shaft that has begun to warp. The warp will simply grow with age and the feeling of doubt that assails the player when the warp first is noticed will deepen to the point of discarding the club when the bend becomes so pronounced that it interferes with the accuracy of the shot.

Clubs always should be dried carefully and oiled when they have been wet. It is as important to dry and oil the head as the shaft. Otherwise the water gets in under the surface and the head cracks at a most inopportune time. When it is certain the shafts and heads are perfectly dry it is best to give them frequent coats of shellac. This is as easy as oiling, but in either case be sure the club is thoroughly dry before treating it.

Many star golfers, possibly patterning after Walter J. Travis, never have the heads of iron clubs polished. The reflection of the sun on a polished putter has caused many a missed putt, and the same may be said of other iron clubs. Also, many experts object to the steady lightening of a perfectly balanced club by the wear of polishing, especially when the modern emery and buffing wheels are used carelessly. Don't put away the clubs for the off season by putting them into the bag and leaning it in a corner. Hang up each club with a screw-eye in the end of the shaft, or lay them flat on a table with the heads hanging over the edge.

"Not bad," said Jim, as paint and doo-dabs got in their hypnotic work.

"But why isn't it advertised?" asked Jim.

"Don't need to advertise a job like that," was the forearmed reply. Sounded logical. But—

Six months later Jim had a collection of bolts and grease-cups and broken springs and disjointed steering mechanism and a motor that almost ran.

"Never again!" said Jim. "The car that's little known and never advertised hasn't much responsibility; little to live up to. Before I buy another car—or another anything—I'm going to get the facts. I'm going to read the advertisements about automobiles—or whatever I'm buying."

Advertisements are an invaluable guide to intelligent buying. Read them regularly.

ALLEGED OPIUM USERS IN COURT

Charged With Unlawfully Receiving And Transporting Narcotics

EACH WAIVES EXAMINATION

Bonds Set at $5,000, Not Furnished, And Men Are Kept in Jail

William Morgan, Frank O'Leary and Nathan Gurin, the trio taken by local police at the New Brainerd hotel, where they had engaged a room and were alleged to have been in the act of smoking opium, were arraigned on Wednesday morning before Federal Court Commissioner A. D. Polk.

The three were charged with unlawfully receiving, transporting and concealing certain narcotics, namely opium, knowing the same to be imported contrary to law. Each of the three waived examination, and all were committed to the federal court at Duluth, bonds being set at $5,000, which were not furnished. The men are being held in the Crow Wing county jail.

When taken into custody Monday night, a large quantity of opium, an opium pipe, and other accessories, were found in their room at the hotel, the door of which had been sealed with wet paper. In addition to the narcotic, a large amount of merchandise was also taken in the raid, together with about $800 dollars in cash, mostly bills of large demoninations. The men came into the city in a Rickenbacher sedan, which because its number had been eradicated, leads authorities to believe the car was stolen.

Local police used a clever ruse to catch the three men unexpectedly. Calling the room from the hotel office, the trio was told that their car, which was parked at the curb in front of the hotel, had been hit by another car and badly damaged. One of the three hurried down stairs immediately and was placed under arrest. The officers then went up to the room and took the other two into custody, without giving them an opportunity to dispose of their supply of narcotics.

It is believed that a number of other serious charges will be forthcoming against the men, one of whom is said to have served two prison sentences for robbery.

Short Story Contest For Club Women Closes Aug. 15

Mrs. F. A. Defiel, chairman of the Literature division of the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs, is calling the attention of the club women to the fact that the short story contest will close on August 15. Two prizes are offered in this contest, a purse of $10 for the best story written by a member of a Federated Women's club and a scholarship in the Minneapolis School of Music, Oratory and Dramatic Art for the winning story written by a member of Junior Federated club.

The story must not exceed 1500 words in length and may be written on any subject that the author chooses. It must be typewritten and the pages must be written only on one side. The story must be in the hands of Mrs. F. A. Defiel, 1624 Ashland Avenue, St. Paul, by August 15.

Mrs. Asche of Carleton won the $10 prize last year. The winner was announced and the prize story read at one of the sessions of the annual meeting in Excelsior.

Mrs. Defiel particularly desires to receive a large number of stories from the members of the Junior clubs as the prize offered seems well worth while.

TALL CEDARS AT LINDEN HOUSE

Enjoyed a Very Pleasant Outing at J. N. Francis Resort on Round Lake

ANNUAL PICNIC HELD

At Least 150 in Attendance, Many Providing Own Basket Dinners

Brainerd and Range brothers with their families enjoyed a very pleasant outing on Sunday at Linden House, the J. N. Francis resort on Round lake, near Mille Lacs, at the annual picnic of the Tall Cedars of Lebanon.

It is estimated that at least 150 were in attendance, many providing their own basket dinners, and others preferring to partake of the excellent meals furnished by Mrs. Francis.

Round lake was not visited by the hard rains that desended upon other sections of the county, only two light showers interrupting for a short time the festivities of the day.

The events of the day included an indoor ball game between Brainerd and range players, a water ball game in which the ladies participated, and a program of land and water sports.

Much credit was given the special committee in charge for the excellent outing that was planned, and a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Francis who did everything in their power to make the day enjoyable. The grounds at Linden House were turned over entirely to the pleasure of the Tall Cedars, and the Francis' spared no pains to grant every wish of the merrymakers.

The next big event on the Tall Cedar calendar will be a dancing party at the Crosby Armory on Friday evening, August 7th. Hedstrom's orchestra has been secured to furnish the music for the occasion, which alone insures the success of the dance. Members of the order will recall the very pleasant evening spent in a similar dancing party at the Crosby armory several months ago, and are looking forward to the coming dance with as much anticipation.

ORTHOPEDIC CLINIC AUG. 8

Similar to the One so Successfully Held Last Year

AT THE COURT HOUSE

Purpose is to Examine Crippled Children of the County

An orthopedic clinic, similar to the one so successfully held last year, will be staged at the Farmers room in the court house on Saturday, August 8th, from 9 o'clock in the morning until 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

This clinic is being held for the purpose of examining the crippled children of the county. Any child with any manner of deformity is urged to attend and be examined, receiving the expert advice of the physician in charge.

Dr. C. C. Chatterton, chief of the medical staff of the state hospital for crippled children, at Phalen park, St. Paul, or one of his assistants will conduct the clinic. Dr. Chatterton conducted the local clinic last year, and made many friends in this county as well as doing excellent work among crippled children locally.

The clinic is entirely free, a fact that is especially emphasized. There are absolutely no charges connected with the examination. Those who intend to be present, or who wish further information are asked to get in touch with Miss Thora Ingebritson, county nurse, either by letter, or by telephone at her office in the court house, on any morning between 9 and 10 o'clock, before Thursday, August 6th.

Any living in Brainerd should receive information concerning the clinic through Miss Eula Michael, city nurse, before the above date. It is hoped that all those who have deformities will take advantage of this excellent opportunity and make arrangements to attend the clinic.

RURAL DRAMA, "RUDIE MY BOY"

Crow Wing County Farm Clubs to Witness Spirited Performance

100 PER CENT MINNESOTA

Written by Native of State, Enacted by Minnesota Boys

Crow Wing County Farm Bureau clubs are to be treated to a spirited rural drama, entitled "Rudie My Boy," presented at various get-together meetings throughout the county during the week beginning August 10th. County Agent E. G. Roth has prepared a series of feature programs containing numbers of special interest to farmers, which will be presented together with the drama.

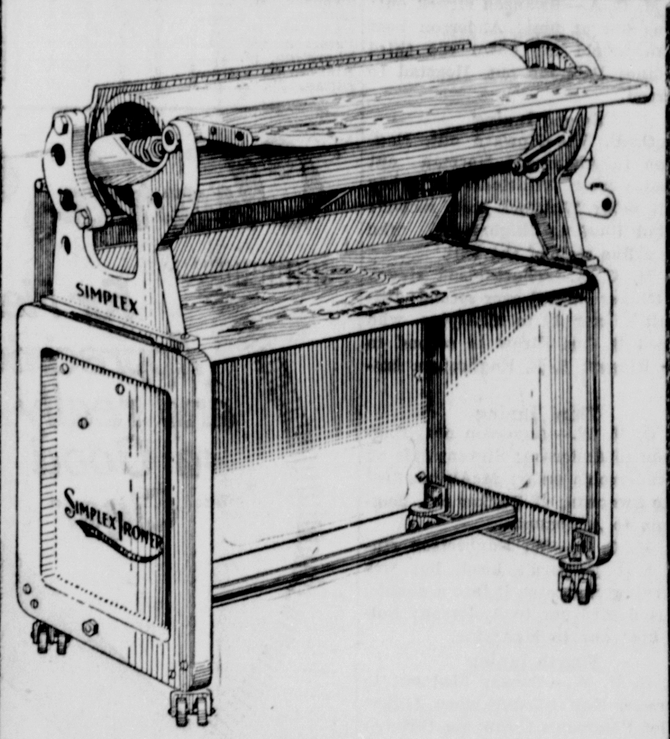

"Rudie My Boy" is a 100 per cent Minnesota production, written by a native of this state and enacted by Minnesota boys. Victor Christgau, of Austin, is its author, and Elmer Starch, of Kenyon and Alfred Sjowall, of Minneapolis are the actors. Both are instructors in summer projects at the school of agriculture of the University of Minnesota.

The scene of the play is laid in the office of a creamery secretary, and the presentation is in the form of a dramatic debate. Both characters employ rapid fire, brass tacks methods as they hurl facts at each other in an argument which at times becomes very tense and very heated.

"Rudie My Boy" is being featured throughout the state this summer by the American Farm Bureau Federation, and has met with a hearty response where ever it has been presented. It appeals to those of the city as well as to the farmer, and the close attention of both young and old is held as the plot of the drama is gradually revealed.

The play won its reputation when KYW, a Chicago radio broadcasting station, featured it in a program recently, and as a result, Farm Bureaus in other states are asking that it be presented there.

Mr. Roth expects to have the play presented in about ten localities in Crow Wing county during the week of August 10th, and to do this a number of afternoon meetings will be held. The complete schedule will be published later.

BRITISHERS WIN WITHOUT TRAINING

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, July 29.—Form shown by the British collegians in the recent meets of the Oxford-Cambridge team against the Yale-Harvard and Princeton-Cornell teams took another sock at the merit of the strict training systems employed in American colleges.

The British team lost to Yale and Harvard on a fluke and overwhelmed Princeton and Cornell a week later.

One Princeton man, after the meet, excused the defeat of the Americans with the plea—"Our fellows were not in condition."

"They have been away from college for a month, you know, and they have not trained as well as they do in college," he said.

The English collegians were also away from school for a month, they made the trip across the ocean, had only a few days to get ready and they seemed to be in good shape.

The answer is, perhaps, that the English boys, trained when they left the campus as they did when they were under the eyes of their tutors.

They smoked when they had the desire, they ate what they liked and they drank what they wanted—when they could get it.

The English boys had a great time on the boardwalk at Atlantic City and they started a new vogue for the beach cake-eaters with their blazing, blazer coats and the scarves wrapped around their necks.

The popular Lord "Davey" Burghley was the biggest hit since the Prince of Wales with New York society summering at the resort and he had to use some of his teammates for pinch-hitters at afternoon teas.

* * * * * * * * *

"We came over to compete, of course," 'is Lordship said, "but we Englishmen believe that social features are a part of high class athletics and that fun should be combined with athletics to get moral as well as physical results from the games."

"We are too fond of your American boys to act like critics," he added, "but we get some amusement from the seriousness with which your boys take athletics. We ask ourselves as we have asked them—'What fun do you get out of your athletics?' We should never compete if we had some lordly coach to tell us—'You may have a bowl of consomme, a lamb chop and a glass of milk for lunch.'

"We eat what we want when we want it. You know, we Englishmen eat a lot and we drink some. We have to do it to withstand the hardships of our climate. Perhaps if we trained on a diet like the American athletes do, we should become seriously ill. I believe the difference in climate may have a lot to do with it. If we became accustomed to the American climate I am quite sure that we would retain our form with the same mode of living. But regardless of reasons, I believe we have more fun out of athletics and get more out of it than your boys do."

$10,000 MEMORIAL TO PERCY HAUGHTON AT HARVARD FIELD

Harvard's memorial to the late Percy Duncan Haughton will be a cenotaph in front of the Locker building, on Soldiers' field, the famous athletic field of the Crimson athletes.

It is a fitting selection, for it will be near the path where for years the famous football coach trod daily on his way from the Locker building to the Harvard stadium gridiron to turn out the most finished football teams in Harvard's history.

It will cost $10,000. The bas relief on the front of the imposing monument shows the famous "P. D." kneeling in a familiar pose, gazing on a pair of struggling football players, one carrying the ball and the other bringing the carrier to earth with a scientific tackle.

Three singles in a row off Stevens in the last inning of last night's contest gave the Y. M. C. A. the only run made during the game, and scored a victory over the Workmen, 1-0. Stevens, after pitching a fine game, blew up, and Peterson, Thorkildson and Ringer socked his offerings for solid blows, and Peterson tramped across the platter with the winning tally.

Engbretson held the Workmen to two hits and no runs, Whitlock and C. Tucker being the only men to hit safely. Several times he was pulled out of holes by nice plays, both by himself and his teammates. In the second inning Engbretson made a nice one-handed grab of Hegstad's liner to retire the side. In the fifth, Bollens took McAlpine's liner and doubled Stevens at first.

The game was the best yet seen, and the fans appreciated the game to the extent of a liberal collection. The games seen in the league now are as good as the ordinary out-of-town contest. Fans are invited to come and see them. Tonight the Y. M. C. A. and B. A. C. play off a postponed game from last week.

The game in detail is as follows:

First Inning

A. O. U. W.—McAlpine out, Peterson to Anderson; C. Tucker out same route; R. Tucker fanned.

Y. M. C. A.—Swanson struck out; Bollens out at first; Anderson beat out an infield tap down the third base line; Peterson out, Hegstad to Anderson.

Second Inning

A. O. U. W.—Howard out, Engbretson to Anderson; Norman out the same way; Whitlock hit safely to left field; Whitlock stole second; Hegstad lined to Engbretson, who made a fine stab of the ball.

Y. M. C. A.—Thorkildson struck out; Ringer singled over second; Dillan hit a long fly to McAlpine, who dropped it, but threw to second to catch Ringer; S. E. Engbretson fanned.

Third Inning

A. O. U. W.—Anderson out, Engbretson to Anderson; Stevens safe on W. Anderson's error; McAlpine flied out to Swanson; C. Tucker out, Engbretson to Anderson.

Y. M. C. A.—W. Engbretson singled over Howard's head, but was out trying to stretch it into a double. Swanson flied out to Anderson; Bollens flied out to McAlpine.

Fourth Inning

A. O. U. W.—Tucker flied out to Peterson; Howard safe when Anderson let Peterson's throw get through him; Norman out, Bollens to Anderson; Peterson threw out Whitlock at first, on a close play. Whitlock had the throw beat a mile, but slid for the bag, and his slide carried him only to within a foot of the base; if he had kept on running, he would have been safe, and Howard would have been home with a run.

Y. M. C. A.—Anderson out, Stevens to A. Anderson; Peterson and Thorkildson fanned.

Fifth Inning

A. O. U. W.—Hegstad took first by being hit by the ball; Anderson hit to Engbretson, who threw to Dillan to force Hegstad, but Anderson was safe when Dillan's throw to first was low. Stevens safe on Peterson's error. McAlpine lined to Bollens, who doubled Stevens at first.

Y. M. C. A.—Ringer safe on Hegstad's muff; Dillan flied out to McAlpine; S. E. Engbretson out at first. W. Engbretson out, Hegstad to Anderson.

Sixth Inning

Bollens took S. E. Engbretson's place behind the bat. Thorkildson went to third, and Weber to right field.

A. O. U. W.—C. Tucker singled over second; R. Tucker flied out to Ringer; Howard whiffed; Norman forced C. Tucker at second.

Y. M. C. A.—Swanson safe on Hegstad's error; Bollens sacrificed, was out at first, and Swanson kept going around second toward third, but was caught, when Anderson made a nice throw to Hegstad to catch him. Anderson fanned the air.

Seventh Inning

A. O. U. W.—Whitlock out, Thorkildson to Anderson; Hegstad out on a grounder to Anderson; Anderson flied out to Thorkildson.

Y. M. C. A.—The Y. M. C. A. came to bat for the last time with the score nothing to nothing. Peterson socked the pill to left for a long single; Thorkildson followed suit with a long single to center; Peterson and Thorkildson worked an unexpected double steal and got into a threatening position to score, with no one out. Ringer fouled several, then got one to his liking and slammed it through short-stop for a single, scoring Peterson with the winning run.

Too Good to Live

A jury condemned the philosopher Socrates to death, but it is not recorded that they were influenced in this by his statement, in the course of his defense, "While a soldier in the Greek army I went through the snows of a winter campaign barefoot, and no one ever saw me cross a street in Athens in the summer to get into the shade." The mind of Socrates was never much on the weather. He believed that one would suffer less and accomplish more if he did not bother his brains about the temperature, and what it might do to him. That is still very good philosophy.—Detroit News.

Joyful Family Reunion

"Two of my brothers, a sister, as well as myself have been chronic sufferers from gas in stomach, indigestion, pain in right side near appendix and liver trouble for many years. My sister tried Mayr's Wonderful Remedy with such good results that we all took a course of it and it helped in each case. Last Sunday we had a family reunion in celebration of our recovery and what we all did eat." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere.
